Finance Ministers Agree on Plan To Save Germany

90-DAY 'REPRIEVE' CREDIT EXTENSION AMONG MEASURES

Speed Record in Diplomacy Will Be Set If Conference Approves Proposition To Be Submitted at Today's Session.

PROPOSAL BASED ON VIEWS OF U. S.

Each of Seven Nations Has Part in Framing Action, the Effect of Which Is in Doubt.

BY FRANK H. KING.

LONDON, July 22.—(AP)—The committee of finance ministers of the seven-power conference announced tonight it had decided upon a plan for economic and financial aid to Germany, and that the plan would be presented tomorrow to the final plenary session of the conference.

The plan, it was understood, would include measures intended to give Germany at least a 90-day "reprieve" in her struggle against financial and economic difficulties.

It includes a proposal for extending for three months the $100,000,000 credit from the World Bank for International Settlements and other measures chiefly concerned with the prevention of withdrawals of foreign investments in Germany. It would provide for a general aid to Germany and those of the Reichsbank. From one quarter close to conference affairs it was learned that four resolutions would be presented to tomorrow's sessions. These, it was stated, would provide:

First, that the central banks and the World Bank for International Settlements extend the $100,000,000 German credit for a further period of three months;

Second, that private banks be urged to leave their credits now in Germany in German hands for the present;

Third, that a world bank committee be appointed to consider the questions of short-term loans to Germany and the conversion of existing short-term loans to long-term loans;

Fourth, that the conference "note with satisfaction" the action of German industrialists in creating a plan of approximately $125,000,000 on the German gold discount bank.

It was considered tonight that the conference, which has been in session only 48 hours, will have set a new speed record for world diplomacy if, as was anticipated in informed quarters tonight, it approves the plan of the finance ministers' committee and decides to make tomorrow's session the final plenary session of the conference.

The proposed plan, it was said, is based largely on President Hoover's views as communicated to Secretary Stimson and Mellon at Paris a few days ago, but they have been woven into the general fabric of a European plan for stemming the tide of German collapse.

If present plans are carried through the conference will end about noon tomorrow, giving the delegates the afternoon and evening for social affairs.

Each nation represented here has had a share in the plan, it was said, but nobody could forecast whether the measures which probably will be taken will be sufficient to satisfy Germany's requirements.

The German reaction tonight was that the proposal to establish a World Bank for International Settlements committee for studying the problem of long and short-term loans for Germany probably would fall short of the expectations of the German government.

Throughout the deliberations France has steadfastly declined to participate in any scheme involving her granting new credits to Germany without adequate guarantees. The French do not underestimate the seriousness of the German situation, but they declare they are powerless to render assistance in any such form as long-term credits.

If the conference adjourns tomorrow...

'Toy Bulldog' Holds Big 'Gob' To Draw in Gruelling Bout

Walker, Outweighed 29 Pounds, Stages One of Most Surprising Fights in Ring History; Sharkey Rallies To Stave Off Defeat.

BY GRANTLAND RICE.

EBBETS FIELD, BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 22.—(NANA)—Mickey Walker, "the Toy Bulldog" of Rumson, held Jack Sharkey to a draw after 15 gruelling rounds at Ebbets field tonight. The decision was exactly right. In my count I gave Walker eight rounds and Sharkey seven, but Sharkey did far the greater damage through his superior punching.

Walker fought one of the most surprising fights in the history of the ring. Outweighed by nearly 30 pounds, six inches shorter, with a short reach, he tore into the big sailor from the first gong and never quit a game, tireless, hard-barging attack. Sharkey threw rights and lefts with vicious intent, but they seldom landed as the fast, hobbling Walker ducked and sidestepped or else blocked with his lifted shoulders.

Sharkey only fought in spurts. When he came in with a rush he had Walker in trouble only to ease up again and let Mickey take the play away. Walker might have won the decision if Sharkey had not cut open his left eye, which, near the finish, turned into a crimson fountain and left him fighting with only one eye. But Walker kept on fighting all the way, where Sharkey only fought in spurts. Each had one big round. Sharkey won the first and then the bounding, surprising Walker won the next three.

In the fifth, Sharkey came back

TATNALL COUNTY TRAC SELECTED FOR PRISON FARM

6,200-Acre Property Near Lyons Picked From 96 Parcels Offered Legislative Committee.

Selection was made from 96 projects offered, and the price agreed upon was $20 per acre.

The big surprise came in the eleventh when Walker, after a body attack, suddenly nailed Sharkey on the jaw and Jack reeled against the ropes, half dizzy and badly bewildered. Walker then nailed him with rights and lefts as Sharkey's knees began to sag, but he finally got his bearings again, as Walker began to tire.

Sharkey failed to use his head a great part of the fight. He failed to keep Walker away with his left, letting his smaller antagonist crowd in at close range and start pumping away. Jack's heavier punches did far the greater damage, but he missed too often and he let Walker lead effectively more than once and beat him to the punch.

It was a great fight for Walker, but a poor one for Sharkey. It practically eliminated all Americans from heavy weight consideration. Walker came back fast through the seventh, eighth and eleventh rounds. He took the greater punishment but he defied the odds and fought with a will. His gauntness in walking into vicious right and left-hand swings, most of which barely missed his chin, caught the sympathy of the big, fat crowd.

It was his tireless, unending charging and trying that gave him his chance against a better man, who only fought in spurts.

First of 'Georges' Sought in Adams Murder Arrested as Police Push Hunt for Slayer

George Georgelas (right) one of a number of "Georges" under investigation in the slaying last Friday night of Mrs. Irene Adams, was arrested Wednesday on a technical charge of suspicion. Eva Well, 23 (left), said to be Georgelas' sweetheart, also was placed under arrest, though police say she has no definite connection with the case. These pictures were taken at police station by Bill Mason.

Sought by two squads of detectives, working individually, George Georgelas, the first of a long line of "Georges" under investigation in connection with the slaying last Friday night of Mrs. Irene Adams, was arrested Wednesday afternoon and is held at police headquarters on a technical charge of suspicion.

The police also are holding 23-year-old Eva Well, said to be the sweetheart of Georgelas. The well woman, though booked for suspicion, has no definite connection with the case, detectives said. Georgelas is a former waiter in a Forsyth street restaurant. The prisoner was arrested by a squad of detectives headed by Lieutenant T. O. Sturdivant, operating under directions of Chief of Police

James L. Beavers, at the same time. Georgelas under suspicion since the manager of the Lee hotel, where Mrs. Adams stayed with her husband, told them last Saturday that the call summoning Irene to the supposed party came from a man whose voice indicated that he was of foreign extraction. Their search for Georgelas, they said Wednesday, was spurred when they learned that a man known only as "George" had been sharing an apartment with two office workers on Piedmont avenue near Fifteenth street, to which corner the Adams woman was carried in a taxicab on the night she met her death.

Taylor and Barrett said they were informed that the two young men

SEVILLE GUARDED OHIO COUPLE HELD IN STRIKE RIOTING IN OFFICER'S DEATH

Martial Law Declared as Snipers Fire Upon Government Troops.

SEVILLE, Spain, July 22.—(Thurs.)—(AP)—Martial law was proclaimed in Seville this morning to deal with a strike situation which up to last night had resulted in 17 known fatalities as the result of fighting between syndicalists and government forces.

Despite the belief of the government at Madrid that military authorities should not take control, Governor Jose Bastos made the decision in favor of martial law after a conference with General Ruiz Trillo, district military commander at Seville.

Two cavalry squadrons and one infantry company marched into the streets, announcing the proclamation. Government troops were reported, but, generally speaking, order was restored. Troops continued vigilant, however, and some of the strikers' headquarters on rooftops, adopting the snipers' tactics.

Four Are Killed. A soldier and three civilians were killed in a shooting in the suburb of Triana last night. The strikers with machine guns fired on strikers in the suburb, wounding many. In a renewed outburst of the rioting in the suburb, strikers fired on troops who were guarding alleged anarchist prisoners aboard a ship awaiting transportation to Cadix for deportation to Africa.

The troops returned the shots, dispersing their assailants. Some of the strikers were thought killed or wounded, but comrades recovered their bodies.

Official estimates placed the arrests at 300. Two guards were patrolling the main street of Triana when snipers on house-tops fired on them. The guards replied with shots, which brought a barrage of pistol fire from surrounding rooftops. A machine gun squad arrived and sniped walls and windows with bullets. One of the dead was a 16-year-old girl, struck within her home.

Governor's Home Attacked. The fighting began this morning with an unsuccessful attack on the governor's residence. Police who dispersed a group attempting to burn the residence.

REDUCTION VOTED IN SOLICITOR'S PAY

House Group Approves Slash of Fulton Salary; Measure Opposed.

A salary cut of $2,000 a year for the solicitor-general of Fulton county was approved Wednesday afternoon by the house county and county matters committee in the face of a vigorous plea by prominent members of the Atlanta bar for the committee not to interfere with this office. Similar salary cuts for judges of city court of Atlanta and criminal court of Atlanta, to conform with reductions proposed for the superior court judges, also received committee approval.

Several members of the county and county matters committee who heretofore have voted solidly with the majority of the Fulton delegation announced their opposition to the solicitor-general bill, and voted with Representative Luther Still, who is fighting the McRae-Eckford bill.

Under the solicitor-general bill, as amended in committee, the salary reduction would take effect January 1.

Liquor Handlers Hold Conference on Prices

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP)—The New York American says today that rum runners and bootleggers of the Atlantic seaboard are in conference at a hotel in an attempt to stabilize liquor prices.

The newspaper says one rum runner complained that a competitor had cut his price from $3 to $2.50 a case transported to shore from rum row.

PROBE IS ORDERED ON FARM DIVISION

Senate Takes Unanimous Action; Action Aimed at $14,000 Expenditure.

The senate Wednesday, by unanimous vote, adopted a resolution calling for a complete investigation of the state department of agriculture and the state bureau of markets.

The resolution was introduced by Senator F. R. Hand, of the 8th district, and no objection was raised to his request for immediate consideration.

Under the resolution a committee of three would be appointed to conduct the investigation and this committee would have the power to subpoena witnesses and to obtain all necessary records from the department.

This action supplements a report of a special investigating committee adopted on Monday, in which it was stated that the commissioner of agriculture, Eugene Talmadge, had acted in violation of the law in an expenditure of $14,136.68 last year. Approximately $10,000 of this amount was used in an effort to stabilize the price of hogs.

Senator Neill, president of the body, named Senators Duckworth, Nease and Watson on the committee of three, with instructions that it report back to the senate during the present session. The three continued in Page 8, Column 8.

Chiang Seeking Aid of Cantonese For War of Revenge on Japanese

HONGKONG, July 22.—(AP)—Chiang Kai-shek, president of the nationalistic government of China, was said by Cantonese insurgent government today to have asked the rebels to join in a war upon Japan in consequence of Korean outrages upon China.

Harassed by new rebellious alignments against the nationalistic regime, Chiang was asserted to have offered to resign the presidency and take command of a force of 500,000 men to be raised in various provinces and thrown against Japan at the Korean border.

The nationalistic president was said to have seized the recent killing of 100 Chinese in Korea by native mobs as a motive for making war upon Japan, which rules Korea. The Korean riots grew out of an attack by 500 Chinese upon 200 Korean irrigation laborers in Manchuria.

Although Japanese police stations were refugees of hunted Chinese, and Japanese police killed Korean attack-

Lindy and Anne Plan To Start Oriental Flight Next Week

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh announced tonight that he and his wife would take off next week on their flight to the Orient.

Colonel Lindbergh said the day of his departure had not been determined upon. His route lies over Canada, the Hudson bay district and through northern Alaska down the eastern coast of Siberia to Tokyo. He will then fly to China, but the itinerary in that area has not been fixed.

Before starting for the Orient, Colonel Lindbergh is to make a tour of Washington for a final conference with state department officials, and to obtain clearance papers.

The Canton government, however, was represented as not disposed to fight Japan, and it had not replied to Chiang's proposals. These were announced as having been transmitted through Chang Hsueh-liang, governor of Manchuria and ally of the nationalistic government.

Professing friendship toward Japan, the Canton insurgents sent Eugene Chen, their foreign minister to Japan, to negotiate with Baron Shidehara, Japanese foreign minister. Japan, having recognized the Chinese nationalistic government, agreed to receive Chen only as a foreigner making "a special inspection tour."

Rector Led 'Elmer Gantry' Life, Wife Charges in Divorce Suit

CAMDEN, N. J., July 22.—(UP)—wanted to relieve Dr. Estornelle from all responsibility for the child "for the good of the church."

Miss McKenna's testimony, hysterical at one stage, climaxed a series of startling revelations made by Mrs. Estornelle's counsel. The minister's wife, in her testimony yesterday and today, told of several instances in which her minister-husband had pursued other women.

And today Dr. Alfred E. Jones, a Leonardtown, Md., minister, testified that when he attended a party in 1926, Dr. Estornelle "put too much gin in his ginger ale and told us unsavory jokes."

Miss McKenna, during her testimony, broke down once and cried: "I'm wild about him! I love him, but it is a crazy love! I was so wild about him that I did anything for him and would again!"

VOTE OF 187 TO 6 IS GIVEN PROGRAM OF REFINEMENT

Decisive Victory of Russell Plan Surprises Even Proponents of Measure. Tucker Casts Own Vote for Proposal.

HOUSE TO DEBATE ON FINANCES TODAY

New Bill Offered by Administration Friends Proposing State Bond Issue of $5,000,000.

BY R. E. POWELL.

Voting 187 to 6, with a majority of the opposition arising to explain votes, the house of representatives Wednesday approved the special legislative committee's bill to reorganize the state government and cleared the decks for debate today on the general appropriations measure.

With only three major articles to be considered, and meeting at 9 o'clock, the house waded into its big bill with a determination to bring it to a final vote and send it by special messenger to the senate. It moved along more smoothly than the administration program than on any preceding day.

Surprising as the record vote was to the proponents of the measure, final passage was made more dramatic when Speaker Tucker, after obtaining unanimous consent from the house, cast his own vote for all the bills and Representative J. T. Colson, of Glynn, one of the authors, cast the vote of his committee colleague, Representative H. B. Edwards, who is ill in the veterans' hospital here.

Only one major fight marked the final day's consideration of the bill in the house. It was on an amendment proposed by the Richmond delegation which would have legislated the present membership of the public service commission out of office on September 1 and allowed the governor to name his successors until the next general election. It failed, 100 to 17.

While interest in reorganization remained paramount as the bill moved through parliamentary maneuvers to passage, the house received a new bill offered by Representatives Battle, Allen, Kennedy and Grayson for all administration supporters, submitting to the people a constitutional amendment providing for a $5,000,000 bond issue to place the state treasury on a sound basis and means committee this afternoon. It is the hope of its proponents that it may be put on passage.

Discount Bill Hearings. Hearings on the W. & A. discount bill, which will be urged by the administration for immediate relief to the treasury, will begin before the committee on the treasury this afternoon. It is the hope of its proponents that it may be put on passage.

Men Are Neither Suddenly Rich Nor Suddenly Good

So one sage observed. But from our side of the grocery counter, it looks as if what a man gets to eat is a great help to both his finances and his disposition.

For we've yet to meet the man who can eat a lean meal and be the happier for it. And we've never known high prices for even the fanciest food to raise either the spirits or the family fortune.

And having noted this, we haven't stopped there. We're promoting digestions and therefore dispositions, by selling only the best food; and we're promoting savings and therefore bank accounts, by selling it at the low prices made possible only by our huge business and tiny profit.

Trotsky Sees World Revolt Or Failure of Dictatorship

BY RAYMOND J. CROWLEY.

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP)—Leon Trotsky, in his latest thesis on communism prepared for distribution in America, holds that the world revolution must be accomplished or the dictatorship of proletariat Russia must fall.

The former chief of the red army, now in exile at Moscow, an Asiatic suburb of Istanbul, bitterly attacks the Stalin regime, denouncing it as a "bureaucratic dictatorship" which has "strangled" the communist party, leaving it without eyes or ears.

In this new pamphlet, which has been translated into several languages and now is being prepared for American distribution, he assails Stalinism as a false theory of national socialism—or socialism in one country—and declares "the complete and final way out of the internal and external contradictions will be found by the U. S. S. R. in the arena of the world revolution of the world proletariat, and only there."

He says his "left opposition" has nothing in common with those who believe in the longevity of capitalism and indicates a belief that the world revolution will come.

The soviet union, he says, is now in a transitional stage from capitalism to socialism, a stage marked by contradictions of varying historical origin. All of these contradictions lead to the contradiction between the isolated workers' state and its capitalist encirclement.

Russia, before and after the revolution, he says, "constituted an inseparable part of world economy."

"The impossibility of constructing a self-sufficient socialist economy in a single country revives the basic contradictions of socialist construction at every new stage on an ever greater scale and with an ever greater depth," he declares at another point.

In this sense, the dictatorship of the proletariat in the U. S. S. R. would inevitably have to suffer destruction if the capitalist regime in the rest of the world would prove to be capable of maintaining itself for another long historical epoch.

"However, to consider such a perspective as the inevitable, or even the most probable one, can be done only by those who believe in the firmness of capitalism or in its long history. The left opposition has nothing in common with such capitalist optimism. But it can just as little agree with the theory of national socialism which is an expression of capitulation before capitalist optimism."

MAYOR CONFIDENT OF HIS VINDICATION

Key and Manget Optimistic as Recall Machinery Gets in Motion.

Rumblings of a heated battle over whether James L. Key, Atlanta's mayor, shall be ejected from office, in the event of a forced vote on a recall, were heard Wednesday when Key made his first official announcement on the move, expressing the opinion that he "will be vindicated," and implying that he will exert every influence at his command to keep his office.

The mayor also asserted "that that political party will do more for America which will allow the people to solve this momentous problem in a free expression of their views at the polls. He thus called on some workers for a nation-wide referendum on the issue which he himself brought to the fore."

And while Key was making public his first official pronouncement since the wet statement battle started about two months ago, following an interview with reporters as he lay in a hospital bed at Pankaj's Atlanta Hotel, president of the Greater Atlanta Club, proponents of the recall effort, prepared to carry forward a systematic fight for an ouster.

Manget obtained the registration lists of seven of the 13 wards, sending a check for $35 which he said was sent to the club "by the father of three boys as a contribution to help the fight for recall." The session Monday ignored a request of the club for free use of the lists, thus forcing the club to pay the regular fee of $5 for each of the wards, or $65 for the complete set of lists.

He announced also that the paid workers are now in the final getting the names of registered voters and 15 cents each. The club will pay $900 for the 6,000 names required to force the recall, if the drive for signatures is successful.

Manget declined to furnish the names of the members of the executive committee of the club, which he says came as a surprise to his friends, because formerly he had refrained from any comment. It was terse, devoid of any personalities and frank.

He said no obstacle will be placed in the way of those seeking the recall, but agreed with Dr. Len G. Broughton that such elections always engendered bitterness and leave "a legacy of scars."

Workers in Seven Wards. The fight was begun in the second, third, sixth, seventh, tenth and eleventh wards Wednesday through purchase of those lists.

In commenting on the notoriety he has received because of his assertion that the present prohibition law is a failure and can not be enforced as "his friends would like to see," he said: "The people of this country have listened to so much bunk, so much duplicity, fraud and deception and so much hypocrisy that when some one comes along and states a simple fact, which happens to be the unvarnished truth, without embellishment, it has the element of novelty that commands notice."

He returned to his desk Wednesday after a three-day absence from the city during which time he delivered an address at Savannah. Key had no comment to make on a purported challenge from Dr. E. O. Heath, pastor of the First Methodist church of Jacksonville, to meet him in debate on prohibition.

No Obstruction Planned. "There will be no obstructions on the part of my friends or myself placed in the way of the would-be recallers," Key said.

"Personally, I can see no harm to myself, but possible benefits in having the issue submitted to the voters because I feel I would be so overwhelmingly vindicated as to effectively dispose of many of my nagging critics."

"But such controversies always carry ill feeling, bitterness, enmity. Already statements have been made by well-meaning people for many of whom I have profound respect, that were ill-timed, ungracious and intemperate."

"Controversies of this kind are bound to leave a legacy of scars that will take a long time to efface."

"For that reason this issue and this controversy is to be deplored."

I have stated nothing concerning the prohibition law but what every one knows to be true.

"We have had the conception in this country that it was the duty of political parties at their state or national conventions to undertake to solve such questions as they come along."

"That is a mistake. These delegates are not empowered to solve them."

"That political party will do the greatest, truly constructive service to this country that will allow the people to solve this momentous problem in a free and untrammelled expression of their views at the polls."

PENSACOLA VOTES FOR CITY MANAGER

PENSACOLA, Fla., July 22.—(AP)—The city commissioner of government for Pensacola is to be supplanted by a manager-council charter.

The voters of the city by an overwhelming majority voted yesterday to discard the commission form, which has ruled during the past 18 years, and to place in its stead a city manager and ten councilmen. The majority was 1,246 out of a total of 7,200 votes cast, in favor of the new regime.

There were two forms of manager charter proposed, one which provided ten new councilmen and the manager and the other which would have provided a manager, 17 councilmen and retention for at least two years of the three commissioners. Both were submitted to the electorate, since both were passed by the legislature of 1931 and sent up for a referendum. Both, likewise, were opposed by the incumbent officers and a city political organization.

Unprecedented Edge Gained By Roosevelt in 1932 Race

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, July 22.—While other potential though unwavering candidates for the democratic presidential nomination are marking time, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, through the efforts of his friends, continues to forge ahead in a manner to indicate that he will be the first-ballot choice of his party when the democratic meet in national convention next year to select a ticket for the 1932 contest.

The latest development of major importance in the democratic presidential situation came this week with the announcement by Joseph F. Guffy, of Pittsburgh, democratic national committeeman from Pennsylvania, that the New York executive will receive at least 66 of the 72 delegates the Keystone State will send to the party's next national conclave.

As a result of the Guffy statement, Governor Roosevelt, observers here point out, is now able to lay claim, nearly 12 months in advance of the national convention, to approximately a third of the votes he will require to gain the nomination—a situation almost unprecedented in an open field affair. The vote referred

"Bad Boy" Mayor Plans Paper To Flay Cities

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., July 22.—Andrew J. (Boss) Gillis, Newburyport's "bad boy" mayor, has entered the publishing field so that he can shoot back at any newspapers which "take a rap" at him.

He has purchased the Newburyport Commercial Press and his publication will make its initial appearance Saturday.

His newspaper, he said, will be "unbridled." "I will give the public the truth without censorship," he announced.

to does not take into account a large number of states where sentiment is undoubtedly favorable to him. Neither does it include those commonwealths, for the most part, which are to hold presidential preferential primaries, where the name of Roosevelt is expected to have a popular appeal.

So strongly entrenched is the New York executive in his own state that it is admitted on all sides for the moment that former Governor Alfred E. Smith would not be able to muster more than 10 of the state's delegates should he decide to become an active candidate for renomination. But Governor Smith is not expected to seek the prize again next year.

Massachusetts, with some 30 delegates, is regarded as already having spoken through the acknowledged democratic leaders of the state—Senator David I. Walsh, Senator Marcus Coolidge and Mayor Curley, of Boston.

The action of Georgia democrats, who will send some 24 delegates, in organizing Roosevelt clubs all over the state is indicative of the state's purpose.

In Illinois, which will have more than 50 delegates, Senator James Hamilton Lewis is the controlling factor. Although not forward as a favorite son candidate himself, there is little doubt, in the mind of politicians here, where he will stand when the time comes for a showdown. He was recently in close conference with Governor Roosevelt, an old associate of his during the Wilson administration.

Add to these the 66 Pennsylvania votes predicted by Mr. Guffy and the Roosevelt pre-convention expectancy even at this early date is better than the 250 mark, or one-third of the two-thirds that will be necessary to nominate. With 11 months of campaigning yet to be passed before the convention date rolls around any opposing candidate is indeed an optimist of the first rank who is able to visualize a Roosevelt defeat.

Another development of national importance in connection with the Roosevelt boom occurred a few days ago when a committee of medical authorities made public a report pronouncing the New York governor physically fit to perform any public duties which fall upon him. The report, signed by men whose reputations cannot be questioned, was designed to answer the criticism quietly voiced in some quarters that the governor, because of his condition, was not able to withstand the demands of the presidency.

In the event of his nomination a reputation of that criticism, or rather objection, is certain to be heard in the campaign, but the report of the medical authorities tends to take the edge off.

TENNESSEE ACCIDENTS KILL 205 IN HALF YEAR

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 22.—(UP)—Automobile accidents in Tennessee took a heavy toll of 205 during the first six months of this year, according to reports of the state highway patrol. The number represents an increase of approximately 7 per cent.

"Sea Serpent" Is Python, But Where Is He From?

SANDUSKY, Ohio, July 22.—(AP)—A search by skeptical Sanduskyans for a "sea serpent" in Lake Erie, near here, ended last night when two Cincinnati cement salesmen announced they had captured an 18-foot snake while they were fishing in Sandusky bay. The snake was held in captivity today by its finders, Frank Bagentose and Clifford Wilson.

Bagentose and Wilson said the snake came to the surface of the bay near their row boat. Wilson hit it with an oar. Hauling it into their boat, they took it ashore and packed it in a box.

Harold E. Madison, curator of the Cleveland museum of natural history, examined the snake and judged it was a python. "It is not a native of this section," he said, "nor of any place within several thousand miles."

Albert Fall Tells His Story

His Account of $100,000 Loan.

BY ALBERT B. FALL.

(Copyright, 1931, by N. A. N. A., Inc.)

Editor's Note: This is the eighth of a series of articles in which Albert B. Fall, sentenced to prison for having accepted a bribe while he was secretary of the interior, tells his own story of his experiences in Washington.

That $100,000 loan from E. L. Doherty to me:

When Doherty lent me that money he did mention something I had done as an official of the United States government, and from which he and others had profited. But that something on which he based an expressed feeling of gratitude toward me had nothing whatever to do with the naval oil reserves.

It was not anything I had done because of the lifelong friendship between Doherty and myself; it was something I had done as a matter of high American principle. I had, as a United States senator, and as a member of the senate's ranking committee, that on foreign relations, "gone to bat" over a period of several years for Americans who had oil concessions and other properties in Mexico.

Under the Carranza regime (1917), a new constitution had been adopted. It contained a clause permitting confiscation of properties held by foreigners, and as most of the foreigners were Americans, this was a direct blow at Americans. My contention was that the clause was not retroactive and that the properties established before adoption of the new constitution could not be confiscated. Nevertheless, more than $500,000,000 worth of such property had been confiscated, and more than 500 American citizens had been killed.

Fought for Rights.

In the senate and through the state department—for which I wrote many letters to be forwarded to Mexico City on the subject—I took up the battle for American rights. As chairman of a subcommittee of the foreign relations committee I directed the investigations to determine if, as some Mexicans asserted, American interests had fomented revolutions in Mexico. Eventually our government was successful in saving the American investments, amounting to millions. Doherty was the largest of these investors among the oil men.

He was grateful for my efforts—and said so when he made that $100,000 loan, which, please understand, was a long time after these things had been settled. The loan was in no sense a bribe for having done Doherty favors, direct or indirect; when he mentioned the Mexican matters I gathered that he did so only to emphasize the feeling of regard he had for me.

We had been friends since we were young men. We had prospected together. He became a senator; I became a cabinet member. We ad-

AUGUSTA RATE FIGHT OPENED AGAIN HERE

The Augusta gas rate fight, renewed Wednesday after a lapse of two weeks, will be continued at 10 o'clock this morning before Stiles Hopkins, Atlanta attorney acting as special master under appointment of the federal district court here. The hearing will be conducted in the postoffice building.

The Georgia Public Utilities Company is seeking to prevent the city of Augusta and the Georgia public service commission from putting into effect lower rates which they declare are confiscatory. In the previous hearing evidence was presented by the gas company to show that their holdings in Augusta were approximately $1,450,000, and that the cost of operation, depreciation, etc., would tend to make the rates as proposed, confiscatory.

This valuation was attacked Wednesday when the hearing was resumed, and Dr. John Bauer, rate expert and engineer, was introduced as a witness by the city of Augusta to show the appraisal of the property as made by the city is $825,000. J. W. Siebert, Augusta, testified as to the value of the buildings, and Frank Batte testified as to the amount of depreciation.

Negro Woman Killed.

Elmira Smith, negro woman, was shot and killed at her home in the rear of 438 Seminole avenue, N. E., Wednesday night, as the climax of a domestic quarrel, according to neighbors. Sam Smith, the woman's husband, is being sought by police. There were no witnesses to the shooting but neighbors told police they had heard the couple quarreling. Three bullets took effect in the woman's body.

The time drew near to complete the purchase of the Harris ranch. The man who had intended making me the loan couldn't complete his plans. I remembered what Doherty said, got in touch with him, explained the situation.

He sent the money from New York to me, in Washington, by his son Ned. I gave Ned my note and took the money. I had asked for it in cash.

The fact that I got it in cash has been seized upon as evidence of crime. It has been said that if the deal were merely a check would have been just as good.

Not at all! Those managing the sale of the Harris ranch demanded payment in cash, and for very good reasons. Thirty-five of the 37 banks in New Mexico at that time were in the hands of receivers. That was a shaky year everywhere for banks in agricultural and cattle districts; the bottom had fallen out of the cattle market, growers were unable to meet their obligations, and hundreds of banks had closed their doors.

We planned to close the deal at Three Rivers, N. M., the station on my home ranch property. There was no bank there.

A singular fact is that at the time Doherty lent me that money my department was no longer having anything to do with the naval reserves. I never expected to handle them again, and except for the strip already mentioned, a relatively small matter, none of the naval reserve deals later complained of had been made with Doherty.

The department of interior had become swamped with other matters; we had cleared up and were still clearing up something more than 20,000 land office cases, some of which had been hanging fire 13 years. The navy department's representatives co-operating with us didn't seem to know just what they wanted, and I was tired of having to look after the reserves. I told Secretary of the Navy Doherty to take them back into his department, and when I got the $100,000 loan he had done so.

Returning from my official trip to San Diego, I received, en route, at Yuma, Ariz., a telegram from E. C. Finney, first assistant secretary of the department of the interior. It informed me that Secretary Doherty was again asking our department to take over the handling of the naval reserves, that the navy department was not equipped to handle their technical administration—the original point which had induced me to take on the work.

I wired Finney to take back the reserves, if necessary, but to get the navy department's request in writing, so we would know just what it was they wanted us to do with the reserves. The request was made in writing and is today a part of the official records of the United States.

In my absence, Finney had full authority to act for me. He had already, at Doherty's urgent request, reassumed the handling of the reserves. The written request I had demanded as proof of our authority to do so.

Taking back the reserves proved the most fateful act of my official career.

Actor "Broke."

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—(AP)—Tom Douglas, motion picture and stage actor who played an important part in "Journey's End," has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy here, claiming he owes $1,170 to American creditors and $17,500 to English creditors. He lists assets of $500 in household goods and $2,500 in salary due.

Holdup Effort Brings 50c to Intended Victim

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—(AP)—An attempted holdup of John Hemminger's cafe netted Hemminger a slight profit last night.

A roughly dressed robber frightened the cashier, Opal Know, with a revolver and emptied the cash register of its $152.50. He sprinted for the door, stuffing the money into a pocket.

Hemminger vaulted the lunch counter and seized the marauder, running a hand into the pocket and bringing out the contents. The man broke free and escaped. When Hemminger checked the money he had $152.50.

Dreiser Demands Rights for Authors Of Movie Stories

WHITE PLAINS, July 22.—(AP)—Decision was reserved in supreme court today on the application of Theodore Dreiser, novelist, to restrain Paramount Public from showing the talking film version of "The American Tragedy."

Arthur Garfield Hayes, counsel for Dreiser, had characterized the film as depicting "just an ordinary murder story," and said the psychology of the novel had been missed.

Hayes said that in January, 1931, a contract had been signed for the talking picture rights between Dreiser and Paramount and that a clause in the contract gave the producer the right to change, eliminate, or add to the original story. But, he declared, such changes were to be merely for motion picture purposes, he said.

DEBT CANCELLATION ADVOCATED BY GREEN

Labor Head Declares Permanent Holiday Would Lift Economic Burden.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(AP)—A permanent holiday in reparations and war debt payments was advocated today by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Expressing his individual opinion, Green said he felt the one-year moratorium now in effect would be helpful but added that alone "it would only postpone the evil day of reckoning."

He said he did not know the views of the majority of organized labor on cancellation or modification, explaining the subject had never been taken up by the executive council of the entire structure of war debts would be a major factor in world business recovery.

He added, however, that he believed any downward revision of debts owed the United States should be accompanied by a corresponding cancellation of reparations due from Germany.

SWEETENED TO TASTE WITH

Sugar?

Sweeten beverages with refined cane sugar

Is there anything more appealing on a hot day than the clink of ice in a tall glass of your favorite beverage? Is there anything more intriguing than to watch a spoonful of sugar drift slowly down and vanish in the cool depths? And is there anything more invigorating than to sip the beverage thus flavored with sugar? Nothing takes the place of sugar in sweetening home-made beverages. And the sugar that is a recognized standard in homes the country over, is refined cane sugar.

Enjoy summer by drinking cool, sweet beverages. Not only will they "cool you off," but they will also "pick you up." Refresh yourself with a sweetened drink. The Sugar Institute.

COTTON MEN TO SEEK TO CURB PRODUCTION

Growers and Others Will Gather October 1-3 in New Orleans.

ST. MATTHEWS, S. C., July 22. (UP)—A convention of cotton growers and representatives of allied interests was called by headquarters of the American Cotton Association here today and will meet in New Orleans October 1-3.

At that time $56 southern cotton-growing counties will be represented. Delegates will try to promote "economic regulation" of cotton production, and crop diversification. Attempts also will be made to broaden the raw cotton market, improve warehouse facilities, secure revision of tax laws, and determine the growers' attitude toward the federal farm board.

Farmers, bankers, merchants, warehousemen and real estate men requested the meeting, according to President J. S. Wannamaker, of the association.

HIGH WINDS SCATTER FOREST FIRES IN WEST

1,000 Tourists, Rangers and Ranch Hands Battle To Gain Control of Flames.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 22.—(AP)—High winds today scattered three forest fires over more than 40,000 acres in Wyoming. Several "dude ranches" were threatened as 1,000 tourists, forest rangers and ranch hands fought desperately to halt the flames.

The fires spread so rapidly in the extremely dry forests that much game was believed to have perished. Officials were investigating reports that a pyromaniac had started eight fires in the Teton National forest and near Lander.

The most disastrous fire was in Yellowstone National Park, where 25,000 acres on Basin creek were burned over. Every available forest and park employee was rushed to the scene as the flames continued to spread.

Dude ranches were threatened by a fire on Jockey's Fork, a stream near Dubois in the center of one of the state's favored scenic sections. Forest officials believed, however, that the flames could be prevented from causing heavy property damage.

Four thousand acres were burned on Jockey's Fork and on Whiskey Mountain and forest officials described it as the worst fire ever to occur in that region. Most of the damage was done in the Washakie National forest.

The flames were sweeping rapidly toward heavy timber on Torrey's creek.

As a precautionary measure part of the Washakie forest was closed to visitors. In the Teton National forest a fire burning for two weeks was still out of control with between 7,000 and 8,000 acres burned over.

CALDWELL REMOVAL HEARING POSTPONED

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 22.—(UP)—Hearing on a federal application to remove Rogers Caldwell, Nashville financier, to Kentucky, where he is scheduled to stand trial in United States court, was postponed for a week today by United States Commissioner Julian Campbell. Caldwell has been indicted by a grand jury at Louisville.

State officials asked for the postponement so that action might be taken on Caldwell's appeal from a three-year sentence for fraudulent breach of trust, imposed by the Tennessee courts. Attorney General Richard Atkinson is also making an application in state courts to prevent Caldwell's removal to Kentucky.

Wrench, Screw Driver And Limb Used in Row

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., July 22.—(AP)—Three fishermen were arrested here today on charges of disorderly conduct, following a fight in which they used flats, an alligator skinning knife, monkey wrench, screw driver, and a four-foot tree limb.

The fight started when Frank Hallfrich accused J. W. Adams and his son, A. L. Adams, of stealing crawfish traps.

Hallfrich, who stands 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 215 pounds, wielded a club with effect but was severely cut about the arms, face and chest.

The trio was separated by Police Chief Lucien Craig and several constables.

CONTEMPT SENTENCE GIVEN GRAFT WITNESS

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP)—Dr. William F. Doyle, characterized by Samuel Seabury, counsel to the legislative committee, as "the horse doctor" who was amazingly successful in obtaining reversals before the board of standards and appeals, was out on $25,000 bail today, awaiting contempt action.

Doyle, a witness before the committee yesterday, refused to tell Seabury with whom he split fees. His income has been about $125,000 a year since 1923, Mr. Seabury informed the committee.

The committee, voting on party lines, voted 5 to 4, to certify Doyle for contempt.

Taken before Supreme Court Justice Black, Doyle again refused to talk and was sentenced to not more than 30 days in jail. Doyle's counsel asked for a delay, but Justice Black answered, "I'll not let this become another Fall case."

Doyle's counsel applied for a writ of habeas corpus, which was granted.

FUND SHORTAGE LAID TO ARKANSAS SHERIFF

HARRISBURG, Ark., July 22.—(AP)—An audit filed with the county court clerk today charged irregularities of approximately $13,000 against Sheriff A. H. Landers, of Poinsett county.

In addition, the audit alleged that the sheriff overcharged taxpayers approximately $11,000 during the last two years. Irregularities were described as collection of fees in excess of legal authorizations and failure to make prompt settlement for tax collections.

County Judge Charlie Mitchell today ordered an audit of the records of County Court Clerk Jimmie Smith.

- 6 Styled to 1931 motor car design

HOW TO MAKE EVERY DOLLAR GO FARTHER!

It doesn't cost you a cent more to buy a Goodyear Tire—and when you buy a Goodyear you get the most popular tire in the world. You get also the extra value produced by the world's largest tire production. No use trying to match that elsewhere. It simply can't be done.

Why buy a second-choice tire, when first-choice costs no more?

Right now you can buy at record-breaking low prices the improved 1931 edition of the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread Tire.

It is today and has been for 16 years the first-choice tire of the world.

This is not a mere claim; an unbiased public institution recently asked American motorists the question, "What tire is best?"

The vote, nation-wide and uninfluenced in any way, showed a preference for Goodyears nearly $2\frac{1}{4}$ times that for the second tire, and five times the average preference for all other makes.

If you want safety and mileage and style in full measure in the tires you buy now, you needn't deny yourself on account of cost.

This great new Goodyear sells today at the lowest prices ever, and at no premium over less popular makes of standard tires.

It is the smartest-looking equipment you can put upon your car, and it'll pile up performance for you that only top-quality can give.

Look at the tire and how low it's priced, then ask yourself the question: "Why buy a second-choice tire, when first-choice costs no more?"

George Says Tariff of 1929 Was 'Monumental Blunder'

Unemployment and Depression Laid at Door of G. O. P. by Senator.

MONTEZUMA, Ga., July 22.—Senator Walter F. George was the guest of honor and principal speaker at the luncheon of the Montezuma Kiwanis Club Wednesday. He discussed the tariff and unemployment. The speaker was introduced by John B. Guerry. While favoring a fair competitive tariff, Senator George deplored the tariff act of 1929 and the later act of 1930, which he characterized as "the monumental economic blunder of this or any other country," further stating that the United States "would not recover from the effect of the 1929 tariff act in a quarter of a century."

$200 REWARD OFFERED FOR WOMAN'S SLAYERS

LAGRANGE, Ga., July 22.—A reward of $100 for the apprehension of the unknown party or parties, who are believed to have murdered Doris Hornsby, 32, textile worker of LAGRANGE, was offered from the office of Governor Richard B. Russell.

The reward duplicates one offered last week by the Troup county board of commissioners of roads and revenues before witnesses of the slaying of Miss Hornsby met a violent death on her return to LAGRANGE from Marietta, Ala. last April and did not return herself.

The young woman's body was found floating on the Newnes river about three miles from Marietta on the morning of May 13.

It was identified the next morning as Miss Hornsby and a coroner's jury was impaneled to investigate the death.

They heard testimony that there was a bruise on the forehead and that there was no water in the lungs, and then were asked to return a verdict while city and county officers, a private detective, the sheriff, deputies, brothers of the woman and private individuals carefully assembled, even a discoverable piece of evidence. Two more sittings of the jury failed to result in any information which would definitely authorize a decision, however.

The final decision was that Miss Hornsby came to her death in a manner unknown to the investigating body.

U.S. SPENT $956,569.96 ON SAVANNAH HARBOR

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 22.—(AP)—The total cost of work done in Savannah harbor by the United States engineers during the fiscal year ending on June 30 was $956,569.96, states the annual report, which has been forwarded to Washington from the office of Major D. L. Weart, district engineer.

Work on the 26-foot channel from the foot of Kings island to the Savannah Air Line bridge was completed during the year, 178,911 cubic yards of material having been dredged out. The sum of $78,836 expended by the city of Savannah on this project was repaid.

In maintenance work 7,379,814 cubic yards of material was removed between the Savannah Crocoting Company wharf and the sea, at a cost of $12,337.77. The cost of new work was $17,516.09.

On the 30-foot channel section the controlling depth was 30.9 feet over a width of 350 feet.

Operations by the engineers during the fiscal year in the Savannah river below Augusta included the making of both aerial and field surveys, the removal of 1,801 snags and the repair of training walls. The total cost for new work was $11,346.54 and for maintenance $27,171.72. The controlling depth at ordinary summer water levels is 2.5 feet. The project is 33 per cent complete.

Historic Sparta Mill Crumbles Under Blasts

SPARTA, Ga., July 22.—A crew of laborers have been engaged for several days to blast down the walls of the old Montour mill here to keep them from falling on passers-by. This old mill which was in operation for years before the Civil War was one of the most historic industrial plants in the south. After being shut down at the beginning of the war it was later reopened and cloth made from Confederate uniforms. It was sold years later for an oil mill, but not being on the railroad tracks, this venture proved unsatisfactory. A stock company was formed a few years later known as the Sparta Cotton Mills Company and the old structure was converted again into a cotton mill but disrepair in the company caused it to be abandoned.

INCINERATOR MERGER PERFECTED AT ALBANY

ALBANY, Ga., July 22.—(AP)—Officials today announced consolidation of the interests of the Decarie Incinerator Corporation with those of the recent personnel of the Nye Odorless Incinerator Corporation.

The new company will be known as the D-N Corporation, with executive offices at Winston-Salem, N. C., and branches at New York, Chicago, Albany, Memphis, San Antonio and Los Angeles, it was announced.

Officers and directors of the new company will include the Decarie and former Nye personnel, the official announcement said.

Officers of the new company include: Julius Breuchaud, New York, chairman of the board; Dermot Sheen, Albany, president; Francis L. Bruyn, New York, and W. L. Cray, Albany, vice presidents; Julius Breuchaud, secretary, and William C. Key, Albany, treasurer.

The officers said they will locate stockholders in Winston-Salem with their families.

Announcement of the consolidation today said the new corporation holds in its treasury control of common and normal voting stock of the Nye Corporation and that this is virtually the same merger contemplated in the early spring, in which Nye preferred stockholders were not to participate. This led to litigation which resulted in removal of Nye headquarters to Maccon.

Officers claimed the organization formed by the consolidation is the largest incinerator company in the world. They said the merger was put through in its original form except that it did not include the preferred stock interests of the Nye corporation.

MERGER MERRE "BLUFF," SAYS NYE ATTORNEY
MACON, Ga., July 22.—(AP)—John R. L. Smith, attorney for the Nye Odorless Incinerator Company here, said tonight that the purported merger of the interests of the Decarie Incinerator Corporation with those of the recent personnel of the Nye corporation, was no merger at all, and described it as only a "bluff."

"It's the same old crowd at work again," Mr. Smith said. "It's just a pretense, and an effort to do business under our name. They have the common stock in the corporation, but can't vote it. They have nothing to merge."

NEGRO FARMERS PLAN TO DISCUSS PROBLEMS
SPARTA, Ga., July 22.—Negro farmers of Hancock county under the leadership of Charles L. Plunkett and J. B. Stevens, negro county agent, will hold a meeting at Culvers mill on July 29 to discuss agricultural conditions. The negro 4-H club boys and girls will be invited to the meeting and they will put on a program for the adult farmers. A barbecue will be served at the noon hour after speeches have been made by both white and colored agricultural leaders.

MODERN POSTOFFICE PLANNED FOR SOPERION
SOPERION, Ga., July 22.—Postmaster B. H. McLarty has received information from the postoffice department at Washington that bids for a new and up-to-date postoffice building here, with all new and modern equipment, will soon be advertised. For a number of years there has been a move on foot to secure a commodious building for the postoffice here.

MISSING GUN POZZLES PROBERS OF 'SUICIDE'

Lowndes Youth Leaves Note But Police Cannot Find Death Weapon.

VALDOSTA, Ga., July 22.—Though leaving a note expressing suicidal intent, mystery surrounds the death of Merritt Harris, 21, whose dead body was found in the "corridor" of the Lowndes county courthouse this morning. Examining physicians said the young man had come to his death from a pistol wound, which struck above the right ear, directly through the heart, but no pistol was found anywhere about the body or the building. The body was found by the janitor and it was still lying, indicating that the fatal shot had been fired after daylight. Operators in an all-night race near the courthouse reported that Harris was in the place between 4 and 5 o'clock in the morning, though they noticed nothing unusual about his conduct.

Until recently he was employed by a wholesale fish concern and is believed to have been in financial straits. The note, addressed to a young lady of the city, indicated his intention to take his own life, and both this clothing and flesh showed plain powder marks. Officers, however, are unable to account for the disappearance of the weapon, believing that death must have been instantaneous, making it impossible for Harris to have disposed of the pistol.

The young man was the son of a Lowndes county, the family being well-known residents of the Mineola section.

SPARTA METHODISTS SUPPORT DR. SMITH

SPARTA, Ga., July 22.—The official board of the Sparta Methodist church had addressed a letter to Presiding Elder W. H. Clark, of the Augusta district, demanding that he give the source of his statement some weeks ago, "that the laymen in his district were confident Dr. Rembert G. Smith was being paid by the liquor interests for his fight on the political side."

So far no answer has been received from the elder. The majority of the members of Dr. Smith's church, knowing the high Christian character of Dr. Smith, are incensed over the treatment accorded him. The pastor has given perfect satisfaction here; his sermon each week being based on the Bible and thoroughly spiritual. He has never made a political utterance from his pulpit.

GEORGE TO ADDRESS RAIL, EXPRESS BODY
VALDOSTA, Ga., July 22.—United States Senator Walter F. George today accepted an invitation to speak at Twi. Lakes Beach Saturday at a picnic by the Rail and Express Employees' Association, at which it is expected there will be an attendance of more than 1,500.

The Better Business Club of Waycross, composed of rail and express employees, will join with the Valdosta club and members from as far north as Macon on the Southern railway in the outing. The Waycross contingent will be handled by a special train, which will be handled from Valdosta to Twin Lakes over the Southern, both roads doing this complimentary.

The general arrangements of the picnic are in the hands of Edgar Fry, of Waycross, and Emory P. Bass, of this city.

A. M. E. CONVENTIONS ON AT CARTERSVILLE
CARTERSVILLE, Ga., July 22.—The sixty-fifth session of the Marietta District Sunday School and Allen Christian Endeavor League convention of the African Methodist Episcopal church convened in St. Luke church, Rev. State Deaths And Funerals
MRS. W. R. WHITMIRE.
COVINGTON, Ga., July 22.—Mrs. W. R. Whitmire, 77, died Tuesday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. Alexander. Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the First Baptist church in Greenwood cemetery. Atlanta. Rev. J. M. Lyda in charge. She is survived by her husband, her mother, Mrs. Sarah Cronan Atlanta; three sisters, Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. John Dill and Mrs. Glen Braxwell, of Atlanta; five brothers, E. T. Cronan, Stone Mountain; F. J. J. M. C. H. H. and A. T. Cronan, of Atlanta.

MRS. J. N. BRAY.
VALDOSTA, Ga., July 22.—Mrs. J. N. Bray, 60, died at her home here today. She was a native of Lowndes county, having been Miss Carrie Betts, a member of a pioneer family of south Georgia. She was married to J. N. Bray, lumber manufacturer, 48 years ago.

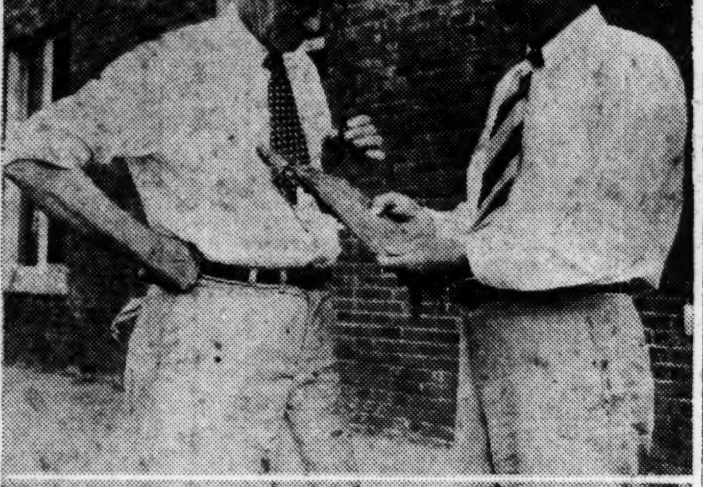

Beside her husband she is survived by six children and nine grandchildren. The children are Mrs. C. C. Giddens, Mrs. Bessie M. Mather, C. W. Bray, Mrs. H. W. Peoples, Doris Bray and Miss Claire Bray, all of this city.

Mrs. Bray is also survived by a number of brothers, including Dr. Harnes Brinson, of Kennesaw, Pa. R. H. Brinson and W. Brinson, both of Valdosta; Homer Brinson, South Carolina; K. J. Brinson, Kennesaw, Pa.; R. W. Brinson, of Cecil, Miss. Brinson, of this city.

Mrs. Bray was a member of the Methodist church. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday morning at the home of her son, Rev. J. P. Bell, of the First Methodist church, assisted by Rev. Pyle, of the Lee Street Baptist church. Interment will be at Mount Zion Methodist church, south of Valdosta.

Colquitt Tobacco Growers Expect Profitable Market

The Bohemian Girl Is Program for Thursday Night.

R. A. Stratford (right), agricultural agent of Colquitt county, showing W. E. Aycock, secretary of the Moultrie Chamber of Commerce, a sample of the first tobacco cured in the county this season.

MOULTRIE, Ga., July 22.—Tobacco growers of Colquitt county expected to make more money this year than they did last in spite of a reduction of 65 to 70 per cent of the 1930 production, County Agent R. A. Stratford stated here today.

"This is due," he said, "first, because the leaf is of a better quality than that of recent seasons, and second, there has been a reduction in acreage." He added, too, that there was at this time little or no Georgia tobacco left in the hands of dealers. The 1931 crop of 5,000 acres, which is now being prepared for the market, which opens here Tuesday, is curing out with a beautiful color and has a good body, according to Mr. Stratford.

"Another reason why Colquitt growers are anticipating better prices for this year's crop is because of the enlargement of warehouses in Moultrie and also that there will be two sets of buyers at Moultrie instead of only one during previous marketing seasons," explained the agent.

He said that last year the price on the Moultrie market paid an average of half a cent more than the average for the state.

Terrytown Revival.—Revival services are in progress in the Terrytown Baptist church this week, with services conducted by Rev. J. A. Reiser, pastor of the Soperion Baptist church.

Arrested in Worth.—Sheriff J. N. Sumner and Chief Deputy Davis Hudon Sunday night arrested a white man giving the name of Leonard Tinsley, wanted at Blakely, Ga., for passing worthless checks. When arrested Tinsley had in his possession an automobile which he admitted was stolen at Hartsboro, Ala., about three weeks ago, according to the officers.

Burglars At Kingston.—Thieves smashed the plate glass doors of John H. Harris' grocery store Sunday night and took five buckets of lard, 40 or 50 pounds of meat and 10 sacks of salt.

Fair Proposed.—LUDOWIC, Ga., July 22.—On July 31, at 8:45 p. m., a meeting will be held in the Ludowici School auditorium to discuss the advisability of holding a country-wide community fair next fall. M. Gordon Nesmith, new agricultural teacher, will be the principal speaker.

Georgia Girls Hurt.—CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 22.—(AP) Miss Mildred LeMaster and Miss Rose May Stevens, of Americus, Ga., and Miss Anna LeMaster, of Richland, Ga., were slightly injured today when their automobile struck a highway grade north of here on the Yellowstone highway.

Still Destroyed.—McDONOUGH, Ga., July 22.—Two hundred gallons of beer and a 50-gallon distillery were destroyed by Sheriff L. D. Dight and Deputy L. A. Hooten in a raid about two days ago at McDonough. The still was located on a small stream directly in front of a residence in a thickly settled section of the county. No arrests were made.

Two Die in Crash.—BOWMAN, Ga., July 22.—In an automobile accident, seven miles west of Anderson, S. C., Sunday afternoon, Paul Seigler, 24, and Willie Maie Bowers, 18, were killed instantly. Also in the car was Dessie Christian and Florence Bowers, both of whom were injured but not seriously.

25 ALLEGED 'LEGGERS' ARRESTED IN CORDELE
CORDELE, Ga., July 22.—(AP)—Twenty-five alleged liquor law violators were arrested here Tuesday night by Federal Prohibition Agent J. S. Stewart and his men working in co-operation with Sheriff J. H. Pitts, of Crisp county.

The arrests resulted from several weeks' work by the officers in this section and is one of the largest "bootleg raids" ever made in south Georgia. Nine of the men arrested were white and 16 were negroes.

ATHENS OPERA DRAWS APPRECIATIVE CROWD

The Bohemian Girl Is Program for Thursday Night.

ATHENS, Ga., July 22.—Capacity crowds attended the performance of "Romeo and Juliet," given tonight as the opening of the three-day season of opera presented by the summer school of the University of Georgia.

Ethel Fox, coloratura soprano, was a lovely Juliet, singing the role with exquisite appreciation of the many subtle shadings of the score, while Dimitri Onoukri, the Romeo, used his perfectly toned tenor voice to unusual advantage. Both were recipients of ovations and demands for encores were numerous.

The opera for Thursday night is "The Bohemian Girl," first light opera ever given during these summer seasons. There is much interest, both locally and among opera lovers all over the state, especially in the appearance of Melvena Passmore, a favorite artist.

LAGRANGE TEACHERS MISS SEPTEMBER PAY

LAGRANGE, Ga., July 22.—The city schools will not open here until October 1 and school-teachers will not receive September pay checks due to a slash in the school budget by city council. The schools, which were scheduled to open September 7, will only open eight months unless changes are made later to increase the school term.

Teachers in the LAGRANGE system are paid on a 12-month basis and present contracts do not expire until September 1. All principals of schools have been asked to notify the teachers of the change and that there will be no pay roll in September.

This movement was made necessary by the cut of the school budget of $11,250. All city salaries were cut 10 per cent earlier in the year except the school-teachers.

The resolution was adopted at a meeting of the board of education held on Monday evening and was considered the wisest plan to overcome the deficit in the budget.

AUTOIST INSTANTLY KILLED BY TRAIN
SAVANNAH, Ga., July 22.—(AP)—Jake M. Higgins, of Townsend, superintendent of the Townsend Naval Stores Company, was instantly killed at 6:59 o'clock this morning when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by a southbound Seaboard Air Line railway passenger train at Townsend, which is about 56 miles from Savannah. The train left Savannah at 5:37 o'clock this morning.

Higgins was driving a roadster a to-morrow across the tracks on the state highway route 23. He was alone. The train on route from New York to Miami struck the automobile and dragged it a considerable distance along the tracks. Higgins was thrown from the car after it had been dragged a short distance. He was decapitated in the crash and the automobile was a tangled mass. The pilot on the front of the engine was badly damaged.

Higgins was about 52 years of age. He is survived by his widow and a little daughter. He had resided in Townsend for the last five years.

SUNDAY SCHOOL GROUP NAMES NEW OFFICERS
LUDOWIC, Ga., July 22.—The meeting of the Liberty-Long Sunday School Association, an annual affair, was held yesterday at the Gum Branch church near here.

Officers of the association for the ensuing year were elected as follows: J. E. Parker, president; J. Harry Parker, secretary; J. E. Barker, Zora Gum Branch, vice presidents. Practically every Sunday school in the association had delegates present. Rev. W. B. Feagins, Baptist minister of Baxley, made the principal address.

South Georgia Fish Sent to Texas Lakes

VALDOSTA, Ga., July 22.—Jeff Dent, a former Georgian now living in Kerville, Texas, and director of the Texas game and fish commission, is spending some time in Valdosta collecting specimens of south Georgia fish for distribution in Texas lakes and streams.

Director Dent has already secured and sent to Texas a large number of fish specimens which will be new to Texas waters. The fish were taken from Ranks pond, in Lanier county, Ocean pond, White Water Lake, Brown pond and other Lowndes county waters noted for fine fish. He has also arranged to secure a large number of fish from the United States government fish hatchery at Grassy Lake.

HOG PRODUCERS MEET IN VALDOSTA TODAY

VALDOSTA, Ga., July 22.—Swine producers in several states are interested in the conference which opens in Valdosta Thursday and continues through Friday. The conference will be for discussing problems of hog raising, hog sanitation and hog marketing and the program contains the names of specialists of those states, Georgia, Alabama and Florida.

Several months ago officials of the three states, interested in promoting live stock, held a conference and outlined this meeting and selected Valdosta as the most convenient place for assembling interested hog men.

In addition to the welcoming address by Judge A. J. Little, the speakers for Thursday include J. N. McBride, agricultural agent for the Seaboard Air Line railway, of Savannah; L. M. Rhodes, chairman, Jacksonville; Dr. H. B. Raffensperger, national representative of the department of agriculture, Moultrie; W. W. King, Moultrie; Dr. M. P. Jarnigan, state agricultural college; H. G. Clayton, agent of the Gainesville (Fla.) agricultural district; J. P. Hawkins, live stock specialist of Columbia, S. C.; A. H. Jennings, Americus, and H. Johnson, Ozark (Ala.) hog grower; H. McDowell, Moultrie plant manager of Swift & Company, and L. H. Lewis, live stock marketing specialist of Jacksonville.

Friday's speakers will be Eugene Talmadge, state agriculture commissioner; G. W. Ray, Ozark, Ala., county agent; E. P. Josey, Statesboro, county agent; N. J. Albritton, Bronox, Fla., county agent; Frank Upchurch, Atlanta; W. J. Sheeley, Gainesville, Fla., live stock specialist; J. O. Greens, Savannah, live stock agent; the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, and H. E. Snow, manager of the Union Stockyards of Montgomery.

PARENT-TEACHER PROGRAM.
He described the work of the P. T. A. as having a tendency to dignify childhood, make life enjoyable for teachers and give the right point of view about life in general. He praised the P. T. A. health program in the schools.

Representatives from 15 southern states are attending the Southern Music Teachers' Institute, which opened at the University chapel this morning.

A large crowd was present for the concert of John Powell's works. Mr. Powell, of Richmond, Va., composer and pianist, is honorary chairman of the institute this summer.

Round table discussions dealing with piano, singing, stringed instruments, public school music and public school piano classes, will begin Thursday morning. The discussions will be held from 9 to 11 a. m. tomorrow and Friday.

HOG INDUSTRY BILLS OPPOSED IN THOMAS

THOMASVILLE, Ga., July 22.—The Thomas county board of commissioners have adopted a resolution to the effect that because there are now pending before the Georgia legislature several bills which, if enacted into law, would retard the hog raising industry, they emphatically condemn such bills. Bills mentioned specifically were house bills Nos. 17, 255 and 280.

School Superintendents, Parent-Teacher Body and Music Teachers in Session.

ATHENS, Ga., July 22.—Several hundred people from Georgia and all over the south are attending the three institutes at the University of Georgia summer school this week.

The County School Superintendents' Institute and the Georgia Congress of Parents and Teachers Institute, which opened Tuesday, will close tomorrow. The Southern Music Teachers' Institute will continue through Friday.

The two outstanding problems of the Georgia common schools system are "to maintain the present appropriation without any cutting and to make provisions for paying our debt for the years of 1928, 1929 and 1930, which amount to $3,740,000," said Dr. M. L. Duggan at the superintendents' institute this morning.

"Georgia needs new school laws," he added. "The bill which is being introduced in the legislature provides for some changes, but it will take a long time to make the complete change which is necessary."

New School Code.
A new code for school legislation must be studied and revised by men and women who know the needs and wishes of all parts of the state, and do not have just a local interest, Mr. Duggan declared. "If the legislature will pay us what they owe us for the past three years as soon as possible, we will make a great deal of progress in Georgia."

Speaking of the "Education Situation in Georgia," Guy Wells declared the present time as a "transitional period in education," at the P. T. A. Institute.

"Methods of education are improving, but the state does not have funds enough to suit this period. There must be an awakening," he said. "We need a new system whereby the leaders are secured by training and interest rather than by politics. The university system needs to be unified and an effort is now being made for this unification."

He described the work of the P. T. A. as having a tendency to dignify childhood, make life enjoyable for teachers and give the right point of view about life in general. He praised the P. T. A. health program in the schools.

WINTER RELIEF PLANS MADE BY CHARITIES

Agencies Aim To Care for City's Needy to Exclusion of "Outsiders."

All employment or other relief furnished by agencies in Atlanta next winter will be concentrated under a central registration office, it was decided Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of welfare organization representatives in the office of Mayor James L. Key. Employment of Atlanta labor and a suggestion that those who apply to private individuals for aid be referred to the central bureau also were suggested.

Frank H. Neely, chairman of the Atlanta Better Business Commission, announced at the same time that only Atlantans may expect agencies here to attempt to obtain jobs for them or to offer any other relief. He emphasized the fact that Atlantans will "have all they can do to prevent actual suffering among its citizens and that actual proof of citizenship will be a prerequisite to any aid."

Under the plan evolved at the session, those wishing jobs or relief of any kind must apply at the central office, where they will be registered, and sent to Community Chest agencies, Better Business Commission, affiliations, the county or borough welfare departments as the case may require.

The program will prevent duplication of services and prevent a "fair and honest distribution of any services which may be rendered," it was pointed out.

In addition to Mr. Neely, the following attended the session at the mayor's office:

Frank Miller, of the Community Chest; Thomas K. Glenn, chairman of the relief committee of the Better Business Commission; A. Steve Nance, president of the Atlanta Federation of Trades and a member of the commission; Aldermen J. Charlie Murphy, chairman of the finance committee of council; Councilman Ed L. Almond, chairman of the benevolence and pensions committee of council; Alderman John F. Scott, also a member of the benevolence group; R. Graham West, borough controller; William H. Johnson, borough warden, and Miss Elizabeth Ivey, Johnson's assistant.

After the meeting Neely called on Atlanta contractors to employ only Atlanta labor on work to be done in this vicinity in accordance with a resolution offered Monday to council by Almond.

Co-operation of the administration in centralization of assistance activities was indicated when Mayor Key vetoed a petition of the Legion of Justice, a Richardson street organization, to solicit alms for relief purposes.

"What we want to do is to concentrate our efforts and all work together," the mayor said. "When persons appear at housing or office asking relief they should be referred to the central bureau in order to avoid duplication."

Return of Beck Recalls Shows At Camp Gordon

Atlantans who have been puzzled by a familiar face and voice on the Fox theater stage this week will recall the days of Camp Gordon and the 82d division's training when they associated with Morton Beck.

ate the stage personality with Morton Beck, the 82d division private who "carried away the show" when Atlanta was a city of khaki uniforms. Morton was the blond lad whose skill in showing the army boys the humorous side of war and camp life led him to be called upon to start an army entertainment league, which was one of the bright spots of Camp Gordon, providing recreation for tired soldier boys.

Morton is back in Atlanta this week with his brother, billed as Ed & Morton Beck, headline principals of the Fanchon & Marco's "African Idea" at the Fox theater.

adult illiteracy in Georgia is brought down to the irreducible minimum. Intelligence is the invariable of progressive civilization and is as vitally needed in Georgia as in any other part of the world. Every citizen of the state who is not a hopeless moron should encourage every sane effort to make Georgia as free as possible of the stigma of illiteracy. It is a contradiction of common sense to hold men and women, white or black, rigidly responsible to laws they cannot read and understand, and amenable to social behavior to the reasons for which they are in mental darkness. The three R's constitute the trinity of a people capable of self-determination in lines of spiritual growth and material progress.

DR. JOHN E. WHITE.
In the death of Dr. John E. White church and civic circles in this section lose a conspicuous figure and a sincere and useful worker.

Dr. White was honored in many ways during his 40 years of service as a Baptist minister, being president of the Georgia Baptist convention at the time of his death.

Born near Raleigh, N. C., in 1869, he graduated from Wake Forest College at the age of 20, having been during his college days captain of one of the first football teams of the south. The fighting spirit which made him such a conspicuous figure in college athletics was largely responsible for the success which later crowned his work as a minister of the gospel.

Entering the ministry at 22, he first served pastorates in North Carolina, being at one time general secretary of the Baptist convention in that state. He came to Atlanta in 1900 to take charge of the Second Baptist church, which under his ministrations for 15 years took high rank among the churches in the south.

From Atlanta he went to Anderson, S. C., to become president of the Baptist college at that place and pastor of the Baptist church. Four years ago he accepted the call to be pastor of the First Baptist church of Savannah, which position he held at the time of his death.

He was at one time president of the Protestant Ministers' Association of Savannah and had for several years been a trustee of Mercer University.

His death puts an end to a life which had been noted for militant zeal in working not only for the forwarding of the interests of the church but as well for the uplift of humanity along non-religious lines.

WAR ON INSECT PESTS.
News reports from many states report widespread insect pests so that to eradicate insect pests under the present annual huge loss to agriculture from this source can be brought to the lowest minimum possible.

In California an intensive campaign is on to effect control of all insect pests which feed on the great money crops of that state, together with plans to prevent the appearance of pests which have brought havoc in other states.

German Student Riots.
Political rioting occurring now very frequently at German universities is attracting much attention. This is because the authorities so freely express their opinions as to a barometer of social life in general, partly, no doubt, because all administrative posts are held by men whose opinions have been formed within their gates. It is not so much the German republic of the present moment, but that of a few years' time, which is threatened by the German youth of an age ranging from 19 to 23 or 24.

That it considers itself so threatened is not without cause. The presence of policemen outside the portals of the university under the pretext of the "gate-crasher" is a new figure in German university life. He, and occasionally she, is due to the habit of national-socialists and communists of introducing political friends at their alfresco gatherings in the university courtyard, where from time immemorial corporations of students and clubs of all kinds have held their meetings outside the regular club evenings.

Imaginary Figures.
Very often the gains of the successful writer turn out to be much below the popular estimate, which hopped in the case of the late Arnold Bennett, which was mentioned here lately. An other example is that of Trader Horn, whose "adventure" at 78, is supposed to have made a large fortune during the remaining four years of his highly chequered life. It now turns out that the amount he has left is quite inconsiderable, perhaps not even more than a mere thousand dollars or so, which would be a fraction of the sum he is said to have cashed in from the American screen kings alone.

Legion of The Damned.
Emerging, haggard, unwashed and starving, from a hiding place among the deck cargo of the British cargo steamer "Ukrop", two wayward and violent characters, German fugitives from the French Foreign Legion, who had boarded the ship at Sousa, North Africa, when the vessel reached Aberdeen, were taken into custody by the police.

One significant change was made in the reorganization bill Wednesday after consideration of all sections had been had and the bill was ready for a final vote. On Tuesday the house adopted an amendment substituting a state revenue commission for the new tax collecting agency under the comptroller general. The house voted to extend the term of R. C. Norman, tax commissioner, until July 15, 1933. It reversed itself Wednesday, ending the Norman term with its natural expiration this month and providing that the governor should name his successor.

Features of Bill.
Principal features of the reorganization bill as it passed the house include: Abolition of the present state board of health and appointment by the governor of a commissioner of health. Consolidation of the forestry, geology and fish and game departments under a single agency, to be known as the department of natural resources, with Peter S. Twitty at its head. Merger of all tax-collecting agencies, including that of the motor vehicle commission, office, under the comptroller general. Creation of a board of regents, 11 in number, to supplant the present boards for the University of Georgia and its branches. Transfer of the functions of the securities commission and the bank and currency department to the office of the secretary of state. You Invite Loss When You Aid A Neighbor Whose Children Are Taught To Steal

In America, for all of our boasted equality, there is class prejudice. You may call it poverty's envy of riches, or the country's envy of town, but the fact remains that one class, even in early childhood, feels a deep-rooted enmity for the other.

Court Appearance Brings Arrest Of Man for Murder of 9 Years Ago

LOUISVILLE, Miss., July 22.—(P)—Milton McCormack, 28, was taken to Clanton, Ala., last night by officers who said they had identified him as a man wanted in a murder committed there nine years ago.

McCormack, who had made his home here for several years and was engaged to marry a Louisville girl, was arrested last week and charged with theft of tools from a mechanic. As he went on the stand to deny the charge in circuit court yesterday, Sheriff T. D. McNeil arose to ask that the trial be halted as a spectator in the court had just pointed out McCormack as being wanted for the nine-year-old Clanton slaying. The informant's name was withheld.

McCormack was taken to Winston county jail, where he was later confronted by Sheriff Gillespie, of Clanton, who said McCormack was the man wanted. Gillespie declared McCormack "kept company" in 1922 with a Clanton girl whose father objected to his attentions. He accused McCormack of taking a shotgun to his sweetheart's home and fatally shooting the father.

FINANCE LEADERS AGREE ON RELIEF

The committee of experts which has been dealing with the details of the Hoover reparations holiday will continue its work at London, it was said. This committee during the last few days has been overshadowed by the meeting of the international statesmen.

Chancellor Brüning and Foreign Minister Curtius, however, will not consider the London conference a complete success, it was said, without a decision on assurances regarding a new long-term loan for Germany. This, it was said, is needed by the present government for political reasons.

Herr Curtius appeared again today to Foreign Minister Aristide Briand, of France, in connection with this issue, and he will confer with Secretaries Stimson and Mellon tomorrow.

Without some such pledge, the German view was, they will be returning to sit on a smoking volcano of economic unrest and reintegration at home which may explode at any time.

Plans were made today by the French and German delegations to leave London Friday morning. With other delegations, they will go to the French and German delegations to leave London Friday morning. similar to those outlined by Secretary Stimson in Paris. It was for this reason that the secretary did not find it necessary to bring forward President Hoover's proposals as such, because they had already been advanced by the British government.

Instead of an "American plan" for stabilizing Germany, Secretary Stimson suggested it should be called an "Anglo-American plan," although, he said, whatever steps would be taken would be the co-operative effort of the whole conference.

No Acrimony.

"There has been an entire absence of any acrimonious issues between the countries," he said, "and the feeling has been very good."

From those in closest touch with the French delegation it was learned tonight the French consider a vast improvement has been made in Franco-German relations and that this improvement constitutes one of the most striking results of the conference.

While actual results of the seven-power conference, as set down on paper, it was said, may not show that the French and German viewpoints have approached each other as much as some had hoped, yet quietly, and without ceremony, the statesmen of the two nations have had many confidential talks in the hotel where both delegations are staying.

The latest of these conversations took place this afternoon when Foreign Minister Briand and Foreign Minister Curtius took tea together in Curtius' rooms. There was no indication of what they discussed.

Son Is Named Arbitrator In Parents' Card Rous

CHICAGO, July 22.—(P)—Russell Tovey, 22, now holds a permanent commission from the Grand Crossing police court as arbitrator and keeper of the peace when his parents indulge in card games.

His father, Frank, was in court accused of tossing Mrs. Tovey down stairs incidental to a disagreement over cards. Mrs. Tovey also attended in bandages.

Russell, as mediator, offered to stay home and referee whenever the folks wanted to play, so Judge John Lape put it down on the books that way and the Toveys strolled home together. Tovey denied the accusation. He said she fell.

SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION

SEEN BY U. S. CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(P)—Successful conclusion tomorrow of the work of the London ministers' conference to afford financial relief to Germany was predicted tonight by high administration authorities.

Late in the day, Secretary Stimson telephoned Acting Secretary Castle of the state department in Washington that recommendations to be submitted to the conference tomorrow were satisfactory to the United States. The recommendations were adopted by the finance ministers attending the conference.

The secretary's message by telephone was the only report received during the day by the American government from its representatives. Contrary to the usual procedure in such conversations, the secretary talked with the acting secretary who remained in his office at the state department. Most of the transatlantic calls have been to the White House, where the president takes part.

Press dispatches outlining the recommendations showed they closely followed the proposals which Mr. Castle had said was made to the conference on behalf of the United States.

The first two points of the recommendations providing for an extension of the $100,000,000 Central and World banks credit and maintenance of levels of private credits, coincided with the American suggestion as made public here.

The third point recommending appointment of a committee to consider the question of short-term loans and conversion of short into long-term loans coincided with the American suggestion that such a committee be selected by the Bank for International Settlements, or other authority.

The fourth recommendation, noting with satisfaction the action of German industrialists in creating a reserve of approximately $125,000,000 on the German gold discount bank was not directly referred to in the American proposal made public here, except that the latter spoke of internal measures in Germany to strengthen the financial situation.

PROSPERITY BEGINS AT HOME

MONEY FOR RENT

WE have money for rent to those who know how to take care of it. Like the realtor, we are eager to find "renters" for the property placed in our care by the public. Like him, we must be sure that the property will be returned, at the end of the "lease," in good condition.

So we will be glad to discuss your plans, to help you decide whether or not the time is ripe to borrow funds for aggressive development of your business.

At C & S National you will find every officer interested, eager to help, and glad to give his time to a thorough consideration of your situation.

COUNTY ROAD-BUILDING MEASURED IS APPROVED

County participation in state road-building would be prohibited under a bill by Senator Stark, of the forty-third, approved Wednesday by the senate committee on highways. The bill would require the state to pay for its own surveys and rights of way, and the 1-cent gasoline tax now turned over to counties would be used for general purposes.

The committee approved Senator Strickland's bill to require indorsement on all automobile tag applications after February 2. The McGowan bill providing for "cheat-proof" with whom the man named George is said to have shared the apartment were out of the city last Friday night and that the "George" had had some sort of a party in the apartment. They had reported their findings to Chief Poole, who had ordered the arrest of Georgelas a short time before he was taken into custody by Lieutenant Sturdivant and Detectives Ginn and Evans.

Sturdivant said he had woven a number of reported facts together before taking the waiter and the woman into custody.

"We have nothing against Eva Well," the lieutenant said. "She was arrested last Thursday night and was in jail here at headquarters at the time the Adams woman was slain. We are holding her merely for questioning and hope she may be able to tell us something that will help us."

"We are informed that on the Wednesday night preceding her death Irene Adams and another woman checked into a downtown hotel where they were caught visiting men's rooms and ejected by the house officer. This house officer reports that the Adams woman told him she did not want to go out of the hotel into the street because she was afraid a man named George would kill her. She said that George had threatened her because she had reported to the police that he was selling whisky at a small hotel on Ivy street."

No Liquor Record.

Sturdivant said he could not account for the woman meeting "George" if she was in fear of him and added that the records at headquarters did not show that Georgelas had been arrested on a liquor charge.

"There are several things we must work on before we say anything definite about Georgelas," Sturdivant said. "We are under instructions from Chief Beavers to keep up our work and that we are going to do."

Meanwhile Taylor and Barrett continued their own investigation, planning to question the two men who occupy the Piedmont avenue apartment in which the Friday night party was reported to have been held and planning to continue their efforts to locate the taxicab driver who is reported to have carried the Adams woman away from Fourteenth street and Piedmont avenue shortly after 10 o'clock Friday night, a little more than an hour after she had left the Lee hotel to go on the party.

Sturdivant's theory is that she was carried away from that section entirely, though he has been unable to locate the cab driver.

"It is quite probable that the woman came down town and there encountered her slayer, instead of meeting him in the section in which she was slain," he said while commenting on this phase of the case.

Many Questioned.

Taylor and Barrett worked exclusively on the Adams case Wednesday. Early in the morning they went over the lonely spot near an alley between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets near Piedmont where the woman's body was found last Saturday morning. For the second and third time they questioned scores of persons living in the vicinity and could find no one who reported any disturbance in the neighborhood Friday night. They questioned a number of servants, janitors and cleaners, but could find not one who heard any extraordinary sound all Friday night.

"There is no telling where this woman was murdered," Taylor said. "She may have been slain in a nearby apartment or she may have met her death in a distant section of the city."

Late Wednesday afternoon Sturdivant augmented the suspicion charges against Georgelas and the Well woman by filing charges of disorderly conduct against them, stating that this was done merely to obtain a further "hold" on them.

Georgelas figured prominently in a shooting affray in a downtown cafe more than a year ago, being wounded allegedly by R. N. Irvin, who at the same time shot and killed Tom Denaris, proprietor of the restaurant.

AGED LAGRANGE MAN BADLY HURT BY TRAIN

LAGRANGE, Ga., July 22.—Henry Wooten, 72, is at the city hospital suffering from a crushed leg, scalp wounds and cuts and bruises on the legs and arms as the result of apparently walking into Atlanta & West Point train No. 28 Tuesday morning.

Mr. Wooten neared the crossing in the Calumet village, where a crossing bell was ringing a warning, and, according to Mrs. William Metcalf, proprietor of a cafe nearby, and Rev. J. G. Lupo, village pastor, the old man did not see the train and walked into the path of the engine, which threw him to one side.

Witnesses picked up the unconscious man and rushed him to Dunson hospital, where his condition is considered critical.

Mr. Wooten came to LAGRANGE 15 years ago from Camilla, Ga., where he was formerly a wholesale grocer.

1 KILLED, 1 WOUNDED AS GUN IS DISCHARGED

The soldiers were on the target range when the accident occurred. The gun was being moved when it discharged. A bullet struck Guilfoili in the head, killing him instantly, and continued on, striking Lucason in the hip.

WATER RATE INCREASE ADVOCATED BY LABOR

Temporary Hike for School Purposes Only Urged in Resolution.

A temporary increase in water rates as an emergency revenue measure exclusively for school purposes, was endorsed by the Atlanta Federation of Trades at its semi-monthly meeting Wednesday night.

The central labor body made it clear that the suggested water rate increase should be put into effect only until permanent solution of the school financing problem has been reached. Heretofore the federation has gone on record as opposing a water rate increase as a permanent method of raising additional revenue for general purposes, and in endorsing the increase at this time it was pointed out that the present deficiency in the school funds is the only reason for a temporary advance in water charges. Since the city charter forbids any increase in water rates except to secure funds for the extension or maintenance of the waterworks system, the federation requested the legislative representatives from Fulton and DeKalb counties to secure the enactment of a bill permitting a water rate increase for school purposes exclusively.

Action of the labor body was taken on a resolution introduced by the delegates from the Atlanta Public School Teachers' Association.

CHINESE MINISTER IS TARGET FOR SHOTS

SHANGHAI, July 23.—(Thursday) (AP)—Four bystanders were wounded today when a volley of shots was fired at T. Y. Soong, Chinese minister of finance, as he entered an automobile at the Shanghai north station. Two bombs, hurled at the finance minister, failed to explode.

Soong was accompanied by Hamoru Shigemitsu, charge d'affaires at the Japanese legation at Nanking, who was not attacked. Shigemitsu was entering an automobile some distance from Soong's when the shooting occurred.

Witnesses said three shots first were fired at the finance minister, followed by a volley of about 20 more shots.

Soong and the Japanese charge d'affaires had just arrived from Nanking on the night express. The finance minister's life has been attempted previously.

THREE ARE RELEASED IN N. C. BANK HOLDUP

GASTONIA, N. C., July 22.—(AP)—Three of five men arrested today on suspicion in connection with the robbery of the Bank of Dallas yesterday were released tonight.

A. J. Manner, bookkeeper of the bank, said he was definitely sure none of the three, O. L. Cook, Kings Mountain, N. C.; Henry Beach, Arcadia, S. C.; and Anderson Goines, Charlotte, N. C., was one of the bandits.

BEWARE!

If You're Told Some Other Preparation Is the Same as GENUINE BAYER ASPIRIN

WATCH OUT

THIS warning is printed to put the public on guard against a deception which may be practised against those who seek genuine Bayer Aspirin for pain, headaches or colds.

We take this means of warning you, so you may be able to protect yourself and family against results of such deception.

BEWARE!

Other preparations, we are informed, have been offered at times to those who ask for Bayer Aspirin; and even represented in some cases as being "the same as Bayer Aspirin."

Watch Out! Remember that years ago doctors warned the public against "headache remedies," some of which are heart depressants and unsafe for many people to take.

Then remember how Genuine Bayer Aspirin came. And was acclaimed the world over by leading men of science as SAFE relief for pain, and was prescribed without hesitation by eminent physicians. For genuine Bayer Aspirin does not harm the heart.

What folly, then, in the light of these things, to dose yourself with drugs of which you know nothing. Don't gamble—KNOW.

The genuine Bayer Aspirin tablets are made by a special process, under careful supervision of scientists, in the Bayer Laboratories, with over 25 years of highly specialized experience.

So when you want SAFE relief for pain, cold or headache, ask for BAYER ASPIRIN. You have a perfect right to ask for what you want. And an equal right to get what you ask for.

There's a Big Difference in Bread

Says Mrs. Vera Howard Hall...

OF THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION COOKING SCHOOL

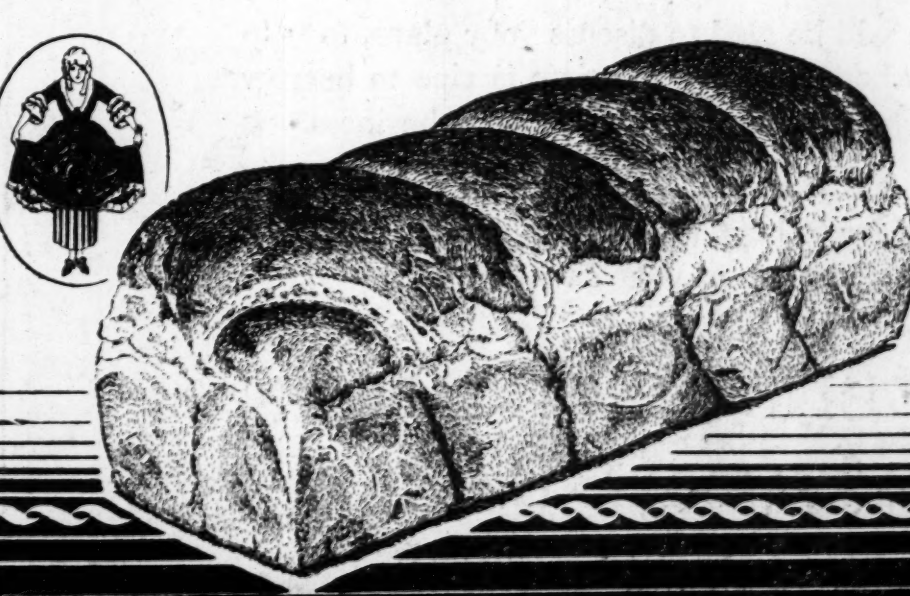

...Atlanta's Best Is...

Colonial Bread

~IT'S TWISTED~

There is no need to spread "gobs" of butter on COLONIAL to make up for a lack of richness or to disguise a poor flavor in the bread itself, according to Mrs. Hall. COLONIAL TWISTED Bread is so rich in content, so complete in itself that it requires just enough spread to bring out that sweet, wheat flavor of good bread.

That's just another test of COLONIAL superiority, says Mrs. Hall—containing more butter and more rich milk IN the bread, COLONIAL calls for less butter ON it.

MILLICAN TO RENEW FIGHT FOR ECONOMY

Assembly Makes Financial Relief Contingent Upon Borough Measures.

Asserting that Atlanta will get no relief from its present financial ills from the Georgia assembly unless it economizes and takes immediate steps to reduce expenses, Alderman G. Everett Millican, chairman of a special council committee which sought recommendations to "save $1,000,000 a year," Wednesday said he would reopen a fight at the next session of council, July 30, to force through committee recommendations.

Alderman J. Charlie Murphy, chairman of the finance committee of coun-

Hill Dream Realized By Rails in California

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., July 22.—(AP)—The Great Northern Railway had entered California today and another of Jim Hill's dreams were realized.

With the banner, "California Here We Come," across the front of the huge track-laying machine, the crew completed the skeleton track in Oregon yesterday and shoved on across into California. The road is being built to Belber, Cal., where it will meet the Western Pacific tracks and permit entry of Great Northern trains into the San Francisco bay region.

James J. Hill, the "empire builder," long dreamed of extending his railroad system to the Golden Gate.

He called a meeting of that body for 10 o'clock Thursday morning, July 30, to consider a proposal of Alderman Ed Gilliam to slash all salaries, except those set by law, 10 per cent.

WIDE INTEREST SHOWN IN WORLD'S FAIR PLANS

M. D. Gleason Makes Tour of South in Behalf of 1937 Event.

Southwide interest in the proposed world's fair marking the centennial of Atlanta was reported Wednesday by M. D. Gleason, commissioner for the planned event, which is scheduled to be staged at the Southeastern Fair grounds in the spring of 1937.

Upon his return from a trip through five southern states, making an aggregate of 23,000 miles traversed by Mr. Gleason since the proposal was launched, he reported enthusiastic reaction to the proposal by civic leaders in every city and town in which he stopped. Mr. Gleason delivered radio addresses on the subject at Memphis, Jackson, Tenn.; Nashville, Miss.; Freeboro, Chattanooga, Cleveland, Tenn., and Dalton, Ga.

The chief feature of the commissioner's talks in the various sections, he said, was the urgent proposal that communities along highways leading into Atlanta take steps to beautify roads connecting with this city. "In every city," Mr. Gleason reported, "the spirit of enthusiasm and co-operation was splendid. Atlanta is receiving remarkable publicity as the result of the early plans for the world fair, and there is a marked tendency on the part of other communities to make of this centennial a southern celebration such as never before was attempted."

Mr. Gleason, upon his latest trip, traveled through Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and Arkansas. Crops in most of those states, he said, are in excellent condition. In Arkansas and western Tennessee cotton is waist-high and corn has a lush, luxuriant appearance, indicating unusual-

GOUGH DRY AGENTS RAID BIG BREWERY

NEW YORK, July 22.—(UP)—The Phoenix brewery at Tenth avenue and 25th street, described as a main source of Manhattan's supply of beer, was raided Tuesday by 25 prohibition agents, led by Andrew McCampbell, district prohibition administrator, who battered down steel doors with sledgehammers and other implements.

Four men were arrested and large quantities of beer and supplies were seized. About 45 employees escaped while the agents were attempting to enter, it was said.

The plant, in a block-long, five-story building, was completely modernized and represented an investment of $1,000,000 or more, the raiders said.

Large crops this fall. Farmers in Arkansas, Tennessee and Mississippi, he said, are optimistic over the outlook, and evince a keen interest in the forthcoming celebration of Atlanta's 100th birthday.

S & W To Open New Cafeteria

The S & W Cafeteria Company, which operates a number of restaurants throughout the southeast, announces completion of arrangements to open a cafeteria in Chattanooga, a 15-year lease having been taken on a portion of the T. H. Payne & Company store building, 823-825 Market street.

The new cafeteria, according to announcement, will be one of the most modern and up-to-date establishments operated by the company. The present plans for the Chattanooga cafeteria call for a personnel of 55.

The lease on the property goes into effect October 1, and the announcement says that remodeling of the building will be started at that time.

This will be the seventh cafeteria placed in operation by the company, the others being located, in addition to Atlanta, at Charlotte, Asheville, Raleigh, Knoxville and Roanoke.

HURT SUES 'BIG BOB' FOR CRASH INJURIES

A damage suit that grew out of an auto accident following a hunting trip in January, 1930, was filed in city court of Atlanta Wednesday by Sherwood L. Hurt, naming Robert P. Jones, father of "Bobby" Jones, as the defendant, and asking for $25,000 damages.

The suit alleges that on January 25, 1930, Mr. Hurt and Mr. Jones, as members of a bird hunting party in Ben Hill county, near Fitzgerald, were returning to Atlanta and that at Mr. Jones' suggestion he was allowed to drive Hurt's car, as Hurt was tired and sleepy.

However, it is alleged, Mr. Jones fell asleep and allowed the car to leave the road and strike a tree. The car was wrecked and Hurt was thrown through the windshield, he alleges, cutting his face and causing broken teeth, and severe blows in the abdomen and knee. His lip also was cut, and paint and particles of metal were left in the wound, he alleges.

The suit was filed by Branch and Howard, local attorneys.

OPERATORS ASKED TO MEET MINERS

U. S. Wants Both Sides To Consider Soft Coal Industry's Ills.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(AP)—Secretaries Lamont and Doak today wrote to 125 bituminous coal mine operators asking them if they would be willing to attend a joint conference of operators and miners for the purpose of discussing conditions in the coal industry. Announcement that the letter had been sent was made at the commerce department shortly after Secretary Lamont visited the White House and talked with President Hoover about the situation.

The letter outlined to the operators the steps taken by the two secretaries since John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, on June 11, asked President Hoover to call a conference of operators and miners.

It outlines briefly the discussion at a conference of operators held here three weeks ago and another conference held a few days later with labor representatives.

"As it is our desire to assist in any workable and practical plan which might offer to contribute substantially to a solution of the difficulties in the coal industry," said the letter, "this letter is being sent to a representative number of operators located in the more important producing districts in the country for the purpose of presenting this specific inquiry."

"At a convenient time in the near future will you be willing to attend a representative joint conference of operators and miners for the purposes stated?"

"In your judgment would such a conference bring about the results outlined by Mr. Lewis?"

ATKINSON WILL FIGHT COURT ON LEA ACTION

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 22.—(AP)—Continuing his fight against Judge Charles E. Lea, which supplanted him temporarily and provided for the prosecution of Luke Lea and his son, Attorney General Richard Atkinson today filed a writ to supersede the court action today.

Seth Walker was named attorney-general pro tem, by Judge Gilbert when Atkinson failed to secure indictments against the Leas in connection with the close of the Liberty Bank & Trust Company here. Justice W. L. Cook, of the supreme court, denied applications for writs of certiorari and supersedeas, which were filed by F. L. Felt, attorney for Atkinson, in an attempt to make Gilbert's action void.

Hearing on the new application will occur as soon as Cook returns to his office, it was said today. As the justice who acted on the first motions, he must consider the later action personally.

AIRPLANES HUNT ARGENTINE REBELS

BUENOS AIRES, July 22.—(AP)—Airplanes were ordered out today to search for Lieutenant Colonel Gregorio Pomar and 50 men, who, according to a government communique, have fled from Corrientes after an uprising of the infantry regiment to which they belonged.

The government charges Pomar with the death of Lieutenant Colonel Lino Montiel, commander of the regiment.

"Complete tranquillity prevails throughout the country," the communique said. "Lieutenant Colonel Pomar, former aide-de-camp to the deceased president, and an officer of the Ninth infantry, have started their flight from Corrientes with 50 men and some war material because they were aware the measures adopted by the government would quell the rebellion."

General Bruce, commanding the third army division, expected to occupy Corrientes today after the arrival of nine gunboats from Paraná.

FLORIDA CITY REFUSES TO PAY JUDGMENTS

SEBRING, Fla., July 22.—(AP)—Armed with federal court judgments totaling $35,000, attorneys for Henry Deana, the old Kent Bank and the Industrial Company, all of Grand Rapids, Mich., made a demand on the Sebring city council last night for payment.

The council refused to pay or include the sum in its budget, which already has been made and the millage set. The council contended that complying with the demand would put the city in the position of preferring a few creditors over others.

The judgments were obtained on failure of the city to pay certain golf course emergency notes amounting to $25,000.

The city defended the suit on the grounds that no emergency existed when the notes were issued.

Yawl Turns Back.

YORK HARBOR, Maine, July 22.—(AP)—The yawl Noddy, in which William H. Bacon Jr., of West Newton, Mass., and Harold Matthews, a seaman, sailed yesterday on a proposed trip to England, returned here today. Bacon said choppy seas caused the 31-foot craft to ship so much water that it would require several days to dry it out.

Afraid of Children, Tailor Obtains Writ

CHICAGO, July 22.—(UP)—Morris Isenberg, 60, wealthy tailor, obtained an injunction today designed to keep his son and daughter from killing him.

"I admit it is unusual," said Superior Court Judge Ross Hall, "but it is any comfort to the father, I am glad to grant the injunction against his death."

The tailor's attorney, Patrick Harrison, said he had fled from his home because of alleged threats from his son, Harry, and daughter, Esther.

"They want him to divide his holdings, worth about $150,000, between themselves and five other children," explained Harrison. "My client refused. Then they threatened to kill him. He has a lot of faith in the power of the court and he is seeking for an injunction against his murder."

OKLAHOMA DECLARES MORATORIUM IN RENT

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 22.—(AP)—Oklahoma state is going to be a tenant landlord to 2,120 farmers living on public school land.

Governor W. H. Murray, who himself was once a farmer, has set aside a state statute by executive order and declared a moratorium on the payment of 1930-1931 rentals on 340,000 acres of farm land owned by the state until February 1, 1932.

The order was issued after 60 farmers from Kay, Noble, Garfield and Grant counties appeared before the governor and other members of the state school land commission yesterday and asked for leniency.

Their spokesmen said that as a result of last year's drought and present low prices for wheat and oats, many of the tenants would lose their homes if they were compelled to pay rentals this year.

In setting aside the statute, Governor Murray asserted the chief executive of the state possessed the inherent right to act in the "interest of humanity in times of emergency."

The statute provides that officers of the school land board who fail to comply with the regulations governing collection of rentals shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor.

KANSAS COUNTIES STAY COLLECTION OF TAXES

TOPEKA, Kan., July 22.—(AP)—Many Kansas counties have declared a moratorium on taxes in an effort to assist farmers of the country's chief wheat producing state who are offered the lowest prices in history in a year which brought their largest crop.

A survey reveals officials of at least 17 counties out of 105 in the state postponed for periods ranging up to one month the date fixed by law for payment of semi-annual tax installments without penalty.

AUSTRO-GERMAN PACT BACKED BY AUSTRIAN

THE HAGUE, Holland, July 22.—(AP)—From Plato, Woodrow Wilson and Karl Marx, Dr. Erich Kaufmann, of Austria, drew precepts today before the permanent court for international justice in his argument on behalf of the projected Austro-German customs union.

He sought to prove the customs agreement would in no wise violate Austria's independence as safeguarded by the League of Nations under the various post-war treaties.

In the post-war negotiations, he said, it was decided only that Germany should recognize Austrian independence, and no rigid restrictions were placed on intercourse between the two nations.

The right to make one's own choice is the cornerstone of liberty, he told the distinguished judges, demanding, "Can you forbid business partnerships if the owners of the business wish to create them?"

Citing authorities on international law and procedure, the Austrian attorney said the consensus of international authorities is that a nation's independence is unimpaired so long as its legal activities are unrestricted.

After an entire day he was only half-way through his prepared text. When he finishes Dr. Jan Krenar, for Czechoslovakia, will begin the argument for the opposition.

TIME ELEMENT HIT IN GARRISON TRIAL

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 22.—(AP)—Foundation for an attack upon the alibi of Moss Edward Garrison, 37-year-old railway commissary clerk, accused of the murder of his fiancée, Hazel Bradshaw, was laid by prosecution witnesses at his trial today.

Deputy Coroner Dave Gershon testified a six-foot policeman walked over the four-and-one-tenth-mile route from the Superba theater to the home of the slain telephone operator in 37 minutes one night last month. At the end of the hike, Gershon said, the officer was covered with perspiration and had to be wrapped in a blanket.

Garrison, a former Atlantan, at the preliminary hearing, testified he and Miss Bradshaw attended the theater May 2 and upon leaving at 11 p. m. walked through Balboa Park to the girl's home, where he left her at midnight. Miss Bradshaw's body was found at noon May 3 in an artificial Indian village in the park. She had been stabbed 17 times.

The state contended Garrison, who is small of stature, and the girl could not have walked the distance in one hour.

Woman Buys "Liberty" For Flight To Rome

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., July 22.—(AP)—The Binghamton Press says that the Liberty, Bellanca monoplane, in which Otto Hillig, Liberty's "Flying Dutchman," and his barnstorming Danish pilot, Holger Høirist, flew to Copenhagen, Denmark, will make another attempt to repeat its conquest of the Atlantic this time to Rome, Italy.

Otto Hillig late today told the paper he had sold his plane for $23,000 to Mrs. Umberto Loffredo, Buffalo photographer, who aspires to be the first woman flyer to "solo" the Atlantic.

The sale of the plane came just a day after Mr. Hillig and his pilot returned to Liberty. The price paid is the original sale price.

The Liberty is now aboard a German freighter en route to Portland, Maine.

BAR SEEKING TO OUST STEEL MERGER JUDGE

Proceedings Filed Against Jenkins, Who Halted Consolidation.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, July 22.—(AP)—J. E. Bennett, president of the Mahoning County (Youngstown) Bar Association, today filed disbarment proceedings against Common Pleas Judge David G. Jenkins, who issued the injunction in the Youngstown Sheet & Tube-Bethlehem Steel Corporation merger, and another judge, a Youngstown attorney.

Common Pleas Judge J. H. C. Lyon and Attorney A. M. Henderson were the others named in the proceedings.

Judge Jenkins was accused among other things of accepting railroad and steamship tickets from a former claim agent for the Pennsylvania-Ohio Power & Light Company, for "a pleasure and vacation trip" to New Orleans with Mrs. Jenkins.

Judge Lyon was charged with using his prestige as judge to avoid paying an electric light bill of $300, alleged to have been unpaid since 1922, and with appointing Henderson to a lucrative receivership position after Henderson paid a $6,000 note which Lyon was alleged to have owed.

Last year Judge Jenkins presided in the billion-dollar steel merger trial here which resulted in an injunction to the minority stockholders of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube restraining a merger with the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

THREE MEN ARRESTED IN ROBBERY OF BANK

SPARTANBURG, S. C., July 22.—(AP)—Three men were held in the county jail here today for questioning in connection with the robbery of the Bank of Dallas, N. C., yesterday.

They are Ol Cook, of near Kings Mountain, N. C.; Henry Beach, of Arcadia, a mill village, near here; and Anderson Goines, who said he lived near Charlotte, N. C.

EXCURSIONIST IS SHOT IN RIVER RUM BATTLE

Runners Escape After Shots Fly Around Detroit Steamer.

DETROIT, July 22.—(AP)—An excursion steamer with 1,000 members of a church young people's society on board became the center of a brush between liquor runners and United States customs border patrolmen on the Detroit river last night, and one of the shots fired wounded an excursionist in the arm.

The fugitive speedboat and its crew of two escaped into Canadian waters, having dumped a part of its cargo.

The consensus of witnesses to the fast moving drama was that the shot which wounded Arthur Gajeski, 23, on the steamer Ste. Claire, probably ricocheted from the hull of the rum boat as it sped past the steamer. The Ste. Claire' rail was lined with merry-makers, who had deserted the dance floor to watch the chase.

First stories told by the passengers after they landed were that the rum boat had taken refuge from three pursuing boats alongside the steamer and that the crew of a border patrol boat had fired 40 shots at the two liquor runners, with the Ste. Claire in the line of fire.

Walter S. Petty, assistant United States collector of customs, after interviewing the patrolmen involved, said it had been a running fight between the rum runners and the patrolmen, started by the smugglers, and that the patrolmen had withheld their fire when the Ste. Claire and a yacht patrolmen, all directed away from the that was passing in the channel came in line.

He said 12 shots were fired by the Ste. Claire, it must have ricocheted, he said.

MILITARY BALL WILL HONOR RESERVE UNIT AT POST

Officers' Club Entertains Visitors Tomorrow Evening

One of the most elaborate affairs of the month in military circles will be the ball to be given tomorrow evening by the Fort McPherson Officers' Club in honor of the reserve officers on duty at the post. The honor guests, who arrived the past week-end to commence a two weeks' course of training, are attractive additions to the social contingent of the garrison and are proving the impetus for a number of social affairs. The ball will be given in the Officers' Club and Major Walter F. Macklin, and Mrs. Macklin, Captain Frederick Irving and Mrs. Irving and Lieutenant F. H. Lynch will be the official hosts. Lieutenant William Hall, aide-de-camp to Brigadier General George H. Estes, will present the guests to the receiving line. In the line will be General Estes and Mrs. Estes, Colonel Louis M. Nuttman, commanding officer of the 22nd infantry; Colonel Robert R. Milan, of Jacksonville, Fla., of the 328th reserve regiment; Colonel John W. Tyson, of Jackson, Miss.; Colonel D. M. Cheston, executive officer of the 22nd infantry, and Mrs. Cheston. The guests will include 250 members of the reserve corps, regular army and guests from town.

Prominent Guests.

Among the prominent honor guests will be Colonel Samuel N. Goodman, of Atlanta; Colonel Milan, Colonel Claude M. Powell, of Tampa, Fla.; Colonel Tyson, Major Thomas H. Bates, of Lake City, Fla.; Major C. B. Danforth Jr., of Augusta, Ga.; Major John L. Goodwin, of Atlanta; Major Lloyd H. Grandy, of Greenville, S. C.; Major Mayhew Lambert, of Atlanta; Major Chas. W. McMullen, of Cleveland, Fla.; Major Stineham, of Knoxville, Tenn., and Major Conson C. Wilson, of Atlanta.

Stunt Night Given At Laurel Falls.

CLAYTON, Ga., July 22.—Annual stunt night was held at Laurel Falls Camp, near Clayton, Friday and the youngest children, the Cherokees, won first place with a Mother Goose skit. The following children took part: Jane Aker, of Albany, was the Pinner; Joseph Weaver, of Selma, was Simple Simon; Charles Burke, of Americus, was Willie Winkie; Ruth Elbridge, of Americus, was Little Boy Blue; Callie Bell Webb, of Americus, was Little Bo-Pop; and Marcia Jean Laurence, of Miami, was Old King Cole.

The stunt given by Cherokees won second place, and Tallulah, third. Cherokees presented "Maidens All Forlorn," a comedy in three acts, and Tallulah, the episode of Tom Sawyer whitewashing his aunt's fence.

Miss Elizabeth Colley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Colley, of Atlanta, participated in the stunt, called "The Lamp Went Out," and Miss Sarah Traynham, daughter of Mrs. E. L. Traynham, of Atlanta, appeared in "Maidens All Forlorn," and Evelyn Greenblatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Greenblatt, of Atlanta, appeared in "Tom Sawyer."

The following points were won by Atlanta campers: Elizabeth Colley, five in crafts, nine in nature lore, two in swimming; Evelyn Greenblatt, five in woodcraft, two in shooting; Sarah Traynham, five in shooting, two in dancing, three in riding.

Baxter—McConnell.

STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga., July 22.—The marriage of Miss Catherine Baxter, daughter of Mrs. A. J. Baxter, of Stone Mountain, to Hoyt V. McConnell will be solemnized at the Methodist Episcopal church Friday afternoon, July 31, at 5 o'clock.

The bride-elect will be given in marriage by her brother, A. Owens Baxter, and Miss Grace Baxter, sister of the bride, will be her only attendant, and Charles Hamby will act as best man. A program of music will be played by Miss Lora Lee DeLoach.

Miss Moon Weds Hammond Alexander At Church Ceremony

A marriage of interest to a host of friends was that of Miss Lucy Ruth Moon and Hammond Alexander, which was solemnized recently at the Great Park Christian church. Rev. Owen Still, of the Capitol View Christian church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. The church was decorated with palms interspersed with baskets of lilies. White tapers burned in the seven-branched candelabra.

Miss Jewel Moon, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was gown in blue organza and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Miss Leonard Moon, Mrs. Paul Moon and Mrs. Dorothy Spain were bridesmaids. They wore organza dresses of pastel shades and carried bouquets of sweet peas. Jacqueline Moon, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white organza frock and carried a basket of pink roses. Leland Merrill was the ring bearer and carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

Marion Moon was best man. The groomsmen were Paul Moon, Frank Backman, Robert Morgan and Jack Alexander.

The bride entered with the groom. She wore a beautiful gown of white satin fashioned with tight bodice and V neck and long full skirt. The veil was caught to the bride's hair with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies. After a wedding trip to Mr. and Mrs. Alexander will make their home in Atlanta.

Pirkle - Bailey Wedding Announced

RALEIGH, N. C., July 22.—Mr. and Mrs. David A. Pirkle announce the marriage of their daughter, Virginia Lou, to Loren Aristide Bailey, of New Orleans, La., and Atlanta, Ga., Friday evening. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Woolsey E. Couch, pastor of the Church of Our Saviour, in the presence of a few friends.

The marriage will come as a surprise to friends, as a wedding had been planned for the early fall. Mrs. Bailey, as Miss Virginia Pirkle, was a popular member of the younger set. She is a graduate of the Girls' High school and is a pianist of local note. Her ancestry dates back to early American history on both the maternal and paternal sides.

Mr. Bailey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren L. Bailey, of New Orleans. He is an honor graduate of the Louisiana State University and holds a responsible position with the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. After September 1 Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will be at home at 1071 North Highland avenue, Atlanta, Ga.

Culbertson on Contract

BY ELY CULBERTSON,
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

"The Acid Test of a System"

The great mass of bridge lovers have neither the time nor the indispensable organization to work out the most scientific methods of bidding and play in such a highly intellectual and complex game as contract. For guidance they naturally rely upon well-established authorities and leading players. Some approved system is then chosen, tested by the player himself in practice and either definitely adopted or rejected. The beauty of a bidding system, is, of course, actual play under all conditions, but especially under the severest kind of competition. I emphatically deny the doctrine advanced in some bridge circles that in bridge there are two sets of truths or rather two concurrent forms of principles, one for the expert player and the other for the "dub." The beauty and power of the game of any master player or of any master system lies in its simplicity and orderly development rooted in the very nature of the bridge. The more a set of methods is complicated or conventionalized, the more rigid the system as a whole, and the less chance there is for partners to combine their hands as one flexible whole.

The routine system is a system made up of a series of rules dealing with non-essentials at the expense of principles which deal with fundamentals. A wooden player is one who may meticulously follow the rules, but who fails wholly to grasp the principles underlying them.

The forcing system of contract bidding is like an engine, carefully designed and theoretically built along essentially simple and practical lines. Its theoretical structure, however, was subjected to the acid tests of experience through thousands of rubbers played by the best available players under the severest competition.

The system of contract bidding known by my name deals also with the play, for after all bidding is only mental play. Bidding is really a prediction of the number of tricks to be made with the hand. If a certain suit is chosen as trump, or if the hand is played as notrump, in the play as in the bidding, I have advanced a number of theories not found in most books. All of these are quite sound, but some of them would be considered radical by those who follow the traditions of the older game of whist.

In this classification comes the use of what I call "warning" leads against notrump declaration. The hand below played in a championship game against two New York experts by Mrs. Culbertson and myself is an excellent example of the value of this "warning" lead with hands of the type held by Mrs. Culbertson. It is, of course, evident that the conventional lead would result in a made contract for North.

1—To many players South's third hand bid will seem weak. Although a borderline (it can barely roll up 3 honor-tricks) it is safe.
2—Longest suit first even here.
3—North would like to show spades but fears that bidding may drop. To jump the spade might prove confusing. Still, I believe "three notrump" was too strong—particularly with a singleton in partner's diamonds.
The lead: East opens spade 10—a short suit! Mrs. Culbertson's hand is too poor not to fear a loss of a vital trick if a club is opened from clubs A 10 6 2 tenace position. She hopes that partner can block diamonds at least once and in addition make either a heart trick or another diamond trick. However, at best that would give but 4 tricks against three notrump. A spade trick must be found to save game. Eventually—why not now? The lead actually wrecked the

THE TWINS LEARN FAST.
BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

If you remember what you're taught, you'll seldom be by trouble caught.

—Mrs. Fleetfoot.

There is a world of truth in that saying of Mrs. Fleetfoot's. The trouble with most of us is that we forget what we learn, and forgotten knowledge is of no use whatever. It is those who learn quickly and remember what they learn who most easily avoid trouble. No one knows this better than Mrs. Fleetfoot the Antelope, so she took great pains to teach the twins, Kid Antelope and his sister, the things that they should know, and she made them understand from the beginning that remembering the things they were taught was quite as important as learning them in the first place, and often would be the means of saving their lives.

Mrs. Fleetfoot knew that with Speedfoot the Coyote and Mrs. Speedfoot and King Eagle and Mrs. Eagle knowing of those twins it wouldn't be safe to leave them long in any one place lest they be found by accident, so each morning before daylight she haid and saved game in the following manner: The play (under-scored card wins the trick).

North now leads the heart Q and hearts do not break. North has already 2 spade tricks, 2 heart tricks and there are in sight but three diamonds. He is down 2 tricks. A normal opening lead with the club 2 from clubs A 10 6 2 by East would give sure game.

Today's Pointer.
The "two-trick" rule. Any penalty double must be based on the expectancy of defeating the contract by 2 tricks. So-called "sporting" or "free" doubles on a margin of but 1 trick are never advisable. Even when a game has been bid, a double with a margin of 1 trick is bad practice because it might enable declarer to locate an important honor, or particularly a trump trick, and thus enable him to make his contract (by knowing how to finesse).

In some cases, a penalty—even though certain of a two-trick set—might not be the best bid. Unless the penalty points you expect to score are equivalent to the value of the score you expect to make, a double is a losing bid.

led them a short distance and then carefully hid them. All through the day she fed and kept watch a short distance from them, going to them only to feed them, and then when she was sure that no keen eyes were watching her.

"My dear," she would say, "always keep watch of the white patch around my tail. When you see that suddenly grow twice as big as it usually is, drop instantly where you are and lie perfectly still. You will know that I have seen possible danger."

"Yes," replied Kid Antelope very promptly.

"And never forget it," warned Mrs. Fleetfoot.

"No," replied the two, and they never did.

Many times a day Mother would suddenly flash that signal, and down would drop the twins and never so much as lift a head until she called to them. Sometimes she would steal back to see how well they were obeying. Even then, although they knew she was there, they would not move until she told them to.

"There are other signals made with that white patch which you will learn later as you grow older," she told them. "Sometimes you will see white flashes so far away that you cannot see the ones who make them, but you will know that they are made by other antelope who have discovered you and are signaling you to join them. As you grow older you will each have just such a signal patch and will learn how to use it. If we should be found after dark and have to run, you will be able to see my signal patch and follow me. At such a time you must never take your eyes from that white spot ahead of you. Never forget that."

GANA TAKES UP REINS AS CHILEAN PREMIER

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 22.—(AP) Francisco Gana Gana, who became premier yesterday on the resignation of Pedro Blanquiere, announced today he will follow his predecessor's policies to alleviate Chile's economic distress.

He is to retain the presidency of the Central bank, serving as head of the government without pay. The change in government brought some minor clashes in the streets last night, but it is expected the new premier's known ability as a diplomat will insure greater support from the people than Blanquiere received.

FRANKLIN QUILTS MISSISSIPPI RACE

LAKE, Miss., July 22.—(AP)—Governor Theodore G. Bilbo announced today from the platform of the Patron's Union celebration that Lester Franklin had withdrawn from the race for governor of Mississippi.

The governor said that Franklin would throw his support behind George Mitchell, Franklin was scheduled to speak here today but he did not appear.

Withdrawal of Franklin cuts the field to four candidates, Mike Conner, Paul B. Johnson, George T. Mitchell and Hugh L. White.

Legality of Franklin's entrance into the race for governor was raised recently by the Jackson Daily News, which quoted lawyers as holding that Franklin was violating the state law by running for office while serving as chairman of the state tax commission.

Marietta, and Miss Marion Power, of Woodstock, are on a ten-day tour that will include Savannah, Sea Island Beach, Jacksonville and Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank De Lamar have recently moved to Atlanta to establish their residence here, and had as their week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Hathaway, of Macon.

A Repulsive Job washing dirty handkerchiefs

Use KLEENEX disposable tissues instead

No unpleasant laundering—no self-infection.

Use once and destroy.

At last a new type handkerchief banishes forever one of the messiest jobs in a woman's life—the job of washing dirty handkerchiefs.

Millions are turning to Kleenex—the soft, delicate tissue you use once and destroy.

Germs are destroyed

This cleanly practice not only saves washing. It protects you from self-infection. Germs are destroyed instantly, instead of being carried back to your face.

The health importance of Kleenex during colds cannot be over-emphasized. Schools, doctors, endorse it. Many people started to use Kleenex during colds, at the advice of doctors, then found it impossible to return to the unsanitary handkerchief.

Kleenex is much safer for children than a handkerchief, which is carried all day long. They use their handkerchief for anything—then back it goes to the face! Teach children to use Kleenex once only, then destroy.

Many household uses

Kleenex is a soft, immaculate, super-absorbent tissue that has a score of daily uses.

For years Kleenex has been the standard tissue for removing face creams. Authorities insist on Kleenex because of its superior absorbency and softness. The absorbency of genuine Kleenex is necessary to blot every trace of dirt and germ-laden matter from the pores.

Mothers find Kleenex wonderful in caring for babies. Motorists like to keep a package handy in the automobile. Use Kleenex for wiping spectacles and razor blades; for dusting; for polishing.

Kleenex is sold everywhere, at drug, dry goods and department stores. It comes in a modern convenient package, from which tissues can be removed with one hand.

INSTALLMENT XI.

Perhaps, some day, she might even be glad of this strenuous experience—if ever she won her way back to her own place . . . the world in which men like grandpapa . . . and Lowndes Jennings . . . moved.

Mr. Lowndes Jennings, as he had promised himself, had come back several times to see her. He brought her fine candy, a spray of orchids, a book of poems—some evening soon she was going out with him in that fast gray car which she had told him, when he asked her diffidently. He was always a little diffident with her, as though she mattered so much to him! It was intoxicating—after a day of dealing out . . . not dogs and pop and chewing gum!

"Yes," she answered the milkman soberly. "I am happy. Today is different from what I had expected, because yesterday something wonderful and beautiful happened. And she asked naively: 'Do you believe in miracles?'"

"I don't know," said he, lounging up to the counter. "I suspected once that one was happening to me, but I have never been quite sure that it was meant for me at all. Miracles usually happen to somebody else, if you notice. Why do you ask? Any miracles been happening to you?"

"Yes. The most miraculous thing about a miracle is its beautiful unexpectedness, the sheer heavenly surprise of it, don't you think?"

"Again, I don't know. Miracles don't happen to people like me, I'm afraid. But if miracles happen to anybody, why, they ought to happen to you . . . nice, fat, juicy ones at that."

"This one was," said she, ecstatically, and her face lighted up.

"I'm glad," said he simply. He was, he related that any miracle which brought that look to Sally Rutherford was well worth the price, and thank the Lord! sang his heart.

"Business is pretty good, too, isn't it?" he queried.

"Better than ever. We sell out everything we have."

"You go after all the town trade you can get, too," he advised after a moment's thought. "There's money in tea and such gimcracks. But don't neglect the road trade. It's steady, there's a very little overhead, the nickels and dimes pour in in a steady stream, and that's where the real profit comes from. I was wondering if you wouldn't like to sell sugar cane juice? For 5 cents a glass, using paper cups. Next year, when the cane begins to move, you'll look into the idea. You'd clean up a nice little sum."

"That," said she, alertly, "is a real idea, Mr. Forman."

The best thing about you is that you're so quick to catch on, once a real idea is presented to you," said he. "Underneath that bob of yours you've got some real business brains tucked away."

"Thank you. It occurs to me that I haven't seen you for some time."

"Busy. I suppose you wouldn't notice it in the papers, but Mr. Sam Winstone has had to address the dairyman's convention. He's president of the county union, and it's supposed he's done a good deal for dairymen in this state. Introduced new methods. Tried out new machinery. Reared the standard. So, they wanted to hear what he had to say."

"I'm sorry, but I hadn't noticed. I've been—rather worried lately."

"Until the miracle happened? Was it a personal miracle or a business miracle?"

"All miracles are personal, aren't they? This one touched me the quick, because it touched Oakleigh."

And Oakleigh—"she stopped abruptly. Why should she talk thus intimately to the foreman of a dairy?"

True, her estimate of him had changed, had risen. He was a college man, carefully trained, capable, independent, and there was about him a timeless something, a breadth, a grasp which she had to respect when she began to see it. He was exceptionally good looking, kindly, likable, helpful. His singing voice was really delightful—she was always after him to have that heavenly voice trained.

"Why, it's trained—I sang in the glee club, and I've done duty in a choir," he protested. "Do I sound so untrained?"

"No, you do not. Now, if a little training has had that much effect, you should have some real teachers," she told him, earnestly.

"You know that song you first heard me singing? The one you like? 'Flower of Thorns'? I always connect that song with you. 'Flower of Thorns,' he said unexpectedly. "Because you are, you know."

She said nothing, merely looked at him reprovingly. Would he never learn his place—and hers?

Sally liked Sam; she trusted him; she was forced to defer to his opinion. Indeed, she would have missed him sadly, she admitted. But for all that, he couldn't be expected to understand how a Rutherford could feel about Oakleigh; how a member of an old family must feel about a threatened ancestral home. How could he?

"You're pretty fond of the place, naturally. It's home," said he sympathetically.

"Yes, it is home. I love it better than anything in the world. I—I think I would rather die than see Oakleigh go." She spoke with passion, so that he looked at her oddly, and said nothing.

Sam stepped into the kitchen for a cheery word with Moses, who was always punctiliously polite and respectful, and always careful of call him "Mister Forman" as often as he could crowd the name into a sentence. Moses was making coffee when two buyers came into the shop.

One was tall and stout, the other smaller and thinner. Their manner was familiar and they retained their hats.

Sally had one sampler, a very good old patchwork quilt of unusual pattern, and a colored engraving of New York harbor in the eighteenth century. The price was plainly marked.

"This all you got," asked the older man.

"For the present, that is all," said Sally politely.

"I heard you had some good plunder at times. That's why we stopped by. I'm a buyer, miss. Mr. Moses is my name. What's your take for the three things?"

"The prices are marked."

He looked again at light a cigar. When he spoke again the cigar was still in his mouth.

"That's all right for the rubes," said he. "But I'm in the same trade. What'd'ya say you'd lemme have the three for?"

"The prices are marked."

"Say, you're a tight little one, sister. But no harm done, no harm at all. You're a right cute gal. Been in this business long?"

"I am sorry, but my prices are fixed. And I do not sell to the trade."

"That's what I call tight'n' tight, sister. But no harm done, no harm at all. You're a right cute gal. Been in this business long?"

"What do you wish to buy?" asked Sally.

"Oh, just thought I'd give the place the once over, sister. But I see it ain't no use to talk business with you. You sure won't sell me the three? Here's my price." He named half what she asked.

"No."

Atlanta Ready as Pro Basketball League Plans Are Made

GOLF for GIRLS

By Glenna Collett

(Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of instructive golf articles written by Mrs. Glenna Collett, a national champion and America's best known woman golfer, for The Constitution and the Central Press Association.)

When putting has become a habit with a beginner then—and not until then—I think, developing an easy rhythmic swing with your other clubs should be your next effort in learning the game.

For the present, forget there is such a thing as a golf ball. Practice your swinging to a timed rhythmic beat. Hum a waltz tune to yourself, if you will, as you swing. It will help. Practice of swinging to a timed rhythmic beat will pay you dividends, as it is bound to produce a smooth stroke.

Glenna Collett, future dividers, as it is bound to produce a smooth stroke.

Meantime, it seems to me, it would be a good thing if you would visualize the kind of stroke you have in mind. For me, it helps a great deal to imagine a weight tied to the end of a piece of string, the other end being held in the fingers. Mentally producing a rotary motion with this affair will describe the radius of a half-circle or the exact picture of a correct golf swing.

Why not try it? In our next golf chat I'll try to explain to you how you may acquire that lazy, limp feeling, the secret of relaxation, which is the keynote of the correct golf swing.

Atlanta's Panthers Beat Knoxville, 4-1

The Black Panthers of Atlanta continued their winning streak in the colored Southern league yesterday at Spiller field by defeating the Knoxville Giants, 4 to 1, behind the fine pitching of Austin.

It is the third straight victory of the local team, which entered the league at the start of the second half of the split season last week.

The Panthers and Giants will clash again at Spiller's today, the game being started at 3:30 o'clock. Austin, the dinky hurler of yesterday's contest, led the visitors from the Tennessee city down with but three hits, Jackson, pitching for Knoxville, also gave a good performance, limiting the Atlantics to five hits.

POLO TOURNAMENT.

RUMSON, N. J., July 22.—(UPI) Roslyn won its way into the semi-finals of the annual national junior polo championships today by defeating the Whippany River quartet, 11 to 9. Ray Firestone led the Roslyn poloists to victory, scoring four of the 11 goals and excelling in all-around team play.

PLAYERS HERE AWAIT TRYOUT; COURT SELECTED

Atlanta and Other Georgia, Tennessee Cities To Form Loop.

By Ralph McGill.

Plans for the formation of a professional basketball league, including six and possibly eight Georgia and Tennessee cities, will be completed the latter part of this week or next, it was learned Wednesday.

Atlanta's best basketball players, it is understood, are already signed or ready to, for a tryout with the Atlanta team.

Tom Slate and Tom Cornell, well-known young businessmen of the city, have joined with representatives from Chattanooga, Nashville, Knoxville, Memphis and Macon in interesting promoters in the league idea and it is already assured of success.

SEEK COLLEGE GAMES.

The professional team is already negotiating with college teams for games, many to be played in Atlanta. Several contracts have been signed.

There are no rules prohibiting the playing of professional teams by college basketball players. The only provision is that the college team must not include a professional player. The same regulations permit the playing of professional basketball teams by college players.

Contracts with the famous "Colts," who next year go back under the banner of the old Rosenblooms, have been arranged for.

The Rosenblooms will also play several college teams in this section.

BEST BASKETBALL.

Chattanooga has had the best basketball in the south in recent years because of the fact that the semi-professional team that has developed interest in the game by playing good basketball against good opponents.

Bill Redd, of Chattanooga, is behind the league there. Redd is well known in Atlanta.

Nashville has had a semi-professional team for several years, as has Memphis.

The teams will work out a regular league schedule and will, in addition, play teams from the east such as the Chicago Bruins and the Rosenblooms.

ATLANTA IS SET.

The Atlanta team has already contracted for a court and will begin practice in September or late August. At least 25 men will be available for tryouts for the Atlanta team. All local games will be played on the same court except the games with the Rosenblooms and Bruins, which will be played in the Auditorium.

Atlanta should receive the new team with enthusiasm. The college games have been well-attended and have proved that the basketball fans of the city like the game. A professional team, made up of good men, playing a competitive schedule with teams from near-by cities, will be of positive interest. It is to be hoped that the meeting this week or next will enable the backers of the league to announce their full plans and the personnel of the league.

Mighty Steinborn Defeats Vacturoff

German Strong Man Comes Back To Win Furious Mat Match.

Atlanta's wrestling fans, after being put off 24 hours by rain, were handed some fast and furious action Wednesday night at Spiller field, when Milo Steinborn, German strong man, lost the first fall and came back to conquer Ivan Vacturoff, the gigantic Russian.

The match was full of action from the very beginning, when Vacturoff rushed Steinborn to the ropes with a series of forearm blows and open-hand slaps against the body. The irritated Steinborn went after the Russian with all his strength, but was unable to use his famous "bear hug" to good advantage.

Steinborn threw Vacturoff out of the ring several times as the Russian attempted to secure a headlock but after 15 minutes of fast action, Vacturoff threw Steinborn to the canvas seven successive times with the headlock and pinned his shoulders to the mat.

Action was plentiful after the intermission, with Steinborn on the aggressive. He wiggled out of several punishing holds and was quick to take advantage of the few opportunities he had to secure his weakening hold.

In two instances while getting loose from a split hold, he used his powerful arms to advantage in securing a partial hug that caused the Russian no little worry.

Cy Williams, the former All-Southern Florida football star, proved himself a capable wrestler in his debut before Atlanta fans, but lost to Jim Hesslyn, the Australian champion, after more than 30 minutes.

Williams exhibited numerous holds but lacked the experience of the Australian, who took advantage of his one opportunity to pin the former football lineman with a partial headlock and body block. Hesslyn was able to wiggle out of holds much faster than Williams.

In the preliminary Billie Cowan and Joe Williams wrestled 15 minutes to a draw.

"LONG LAY-OFF HURT ME"—GOB

laughing as Jack Kearns, his manager, stormed around and declared that he was going to claim the heavyweight championship for Walker and ask the New York state athletic commission to reverse the ruling of the two judges and referee tonight to a decision in favor of Walker.

"It was a good fair fight all the way," Mickey said, "and I could fight 15 more rounds like it right now. Sharkey never did hurt me, but, heck, I cut easy and I bled a lot and I suppose that looked bad and counted against me. I thought I won all right, but that don't matter."

Walker had two cuts over his left eye, one a deep gash in the eyelid, the other a superficial cut over the eyebrow. His left eyebrow was swollen, but there were no other marks on his face or body.

When someone wanted to know whether Mickey would tackle Sharkey again all he would do was grin and wave at Kearns.

"Ask Jack," he said, "it's up to the boss."

They Can Come Back.

It has remained for a combination of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Lefty O'Doul to prove again that now and then they can come back. A trifle over two months ago the Dodgers were in the middle of Indigo swamp, and O'Doul was in worse. He had to be benched because he couldn't hit. Now see what has happened. In the last few weeks the Dodgers alone have been moving as fast as the Cardinals, and O'Doul has been one of the main factors in their uprising.

The war club that seemed to be splintered and shattered back in April and early May has been strutting the song of the base hit week after week.

Whether or not the Dodgers can overtake the winking Cardinals is another matter. The Cardinals have been getting about all a winning ball club needs, and that long, early jump they took over the Dodgers has made a big difference. But there are still more than two months left, and the Dodgers at least have a chance. Especially if Lefty O'Doul can keep that pace of his singing the same old song.

A Break for the Pickers.

There was much confusion over naming in advance the winner of the Scheinberg-Stirling and the Sharkey-Walker fights. Also the winner of the United States Open and the final round of the inter-zone Davis cup play. But the sportsman have a break at last. The women's national tennis championship of the U. S. A. starts soon at Forest Hills. There is a lady from California entered who should make picking fairly safe. If someone beats her, the ancient art of soothsaying might just as well be abandoned. There will be other high-class tennis players on hand and a keen competition—outside of this one factor.

The 30-Year Duel.

Almost the oldest competition in sport, still going on, is tightening up again. It is the pennant duel of Connie Mack and John J. McGraw. It began about thirty years ago, when Mr. Mack begged his first pennant for the Athletics.

Tone of the Markets.

NEW YORK. July 22.—(P)—The security markets reacted today despite the reassuring official statements on the London conference.

Stocks which had been creeping higher for nearly a week, turned heavy in volume of only 950,430 shares, and the German bond list suffered some rather serious weakness of sterling exchange stood out among the day's developments.

Grain quotations were about steady but cotton took a tumble.

Some disturbance may have been caused by Wall Street reports that the German political situation was becoming more trying, presumably as a result of a belief that the best to be hoped from the London meeting was an extension of existing credits and a decision in favor of leaving such accommodations undisturbed.

Talk of a huge international loan for the Reich, an operation which met with frank disfavor among many prominent bankers here, has died down.

Wall Street's inability to guess what dividend action might be taken at next Tuesday's Steel Corporation meeting, a drop in steel operations to a new low for the depression, reports of lessened activity by the can manufacturers and a loss in electric power output compared with a year ago contributed to the debit side of the news ledger.

United States Steel was the market leader. At its close the stock was down 3/8 and it barely managed to close above the bottom for a net loss of 3 1/8. American Can and Auburn Auto retreated 4 points each, while Bethlehem, All American, Westinghouse, American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, American & Foreign Power, Baltimore and Ohio, and Case were down 2 to 3 1/2. General Motors, whose report was published after the close, lost nearly a point. The $122 per share for the second quarter was closely in line with earlier estimates.

The Bank of England's gold losses to continental Europe were in the neighborhood of $15,000,000, bringing the total drain of the past week to not far from $100,000,000.

Not far from $100,000,000, which had been closed at $14.54, a net loss of 3 1/4 of a cent. The French franc, on the other hand, was strong.

Wheat traded narrowly. Final quotations represented a net loss of 1/8 cent on all months. Wheat with July 5-S higher and September and December half a cent lower. Selling of cotton was in sympathy with stock market's decline and favorable reports on the crop.

LILLIAN RUSSELL'S SISTER SUCCUMBS

NEW YORK, July 22.—(P)—Mrs. Lillian Russell, known for her club work throughout the state, died yesterday at a private sanitarium at Dobbs Ferry, it was known today.

RAUL TOLEDO LOPEZ.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, July 22.—(P)—Raul Toledo Lopez, former Honduran minister to Washington and to Paris, died today at a hotel here.

TRADE TRENDS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

BUILDING

Construction contracts awarded in the 37 states east of the Rocky mountains for the first six months of July amounted to $127,200,000, according to the Building Industry Association. For the full month of July the total was $137,000,000. The total for the first six months of 1931 was $1,307,500,000. Of the total, for the period this year non-residential building amounted to $1,005,100, residential building $272,400,000, and public works and utilities totaled $130,000,000.

INSOLVENCIES

Business defaults were more numerous this week, according to Bradstreet's, the total for the week aggregating 448. This represents a gain of 25 per cent over the previous week and 5.1 per cent over the corresponding week last year. Insolvencies in the total group were a third greater than in the previous week, while the commercial service group furnished 12 more. The manufacturing group furnished one less and in wholesale and jobbing there were 6 fewer.

RUBBER

Production of crude rubber on Malayan estates over 100 acres in size in June totaled 10,014 tons, an increase over 18,004 tons in May.

SILVER

Bar silver was easier in New York, sagging 1/8 cent and 1/2 cent to 27 3/4 cents an ounce Wednesday. The metal held steady in London, however, unchanged at 13 1/2 pence.

STEEL

The weekly reviews of the steel industry estimated that input output had reached to 30 per cent of capacity. The lowest level in the depression, but reported sentiment was stronger. Iron Age reported a drop of 2 points in operations and said "hopefulness of a 25 per cent increase in output by September is spreading" among producers and there was a general belief that present levels would maintain throughout August without material change.

NEW ORLEANS SPOT COTTON.
NEW ORLEANS, July 22.—Spot cotton closed steady. Middling 25 points down at 8.65. Receipts, 1,093; shipments, 63; stocks, 188,066.
NEW YORK, July 22.—(P)—Cotton declined further today under general selling.
The October position declined to 28 and closed at that figure, with net loss of 25 points, while the general market closed easy at the low of the day, with net declines of 22 to 25 points.
The opening was steady, 8 to 13 points lower and aside from occasional small rallies, was on the down during the greater part of the session. At the decline 10-cent cotton again disappeared from the local market. News of the day was generally construed as against values. Liverpool cables were lower than expected.
The weather and crop news, including the fact that the cotton bulletin, was generally satisfactory and only partially counteracted by further complaints of the spread of boll weevil, did not result in a recovery weather. There were reports from an authority in South Carolina to the effect that entomologists were of the opinion that the boll weevils would be, as there probably will be increased infestation. Traders, however, seemed impressed by the fact that up to the present there have been no reports from the south, which is an unusual condition for this time of the year. The action of the market offered little encouragement to buyers and aside from hoarding and trade fixations, the demand is slow.
Liverpool called the market there influenced by liquidation, selling and adverse political news. Exports today 1,823, making 6,857,727 for the year to date, port receipts 190; United States port stocks 838,296.
SPOTS IN NEW ORLEANS.
SHOW FURTHER LOSSES.
NEW ORLEANS, July 22.—(P)—It was a sluggish market in cotton today, with the trend mostly downward at the close at net declines of a little more than 8 1/2 a bale. The easier tone was the result of the London conference outcome, easier stocks and rather favorable weekly weather reports. However, to watch a few rallies on some trade buying and short covering, but the lows of the day were reached at the end of the session.
Liverpool came in 7 to 7 penny higher, but the to the report, cables stated that there was liquidation adverse political news. This was interpreted as referring to the London conference. Manchester cables that in the cloth trade bids were disappointing and yarns were quiet. First trades showed losses of 9 to 12 points.
Port receipts 1,190; for week 10,744,727; for season 6,619,304. Port stock 587,582; last year 1,567,580. Combed cotton forward stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 460,606; last year 22,005. Spot sales at northern markets 1,680; last year 1,964.

COOKING SCHOOL TO CLOSE TODAY

Final Session of Course Will Present Many of Its Principal Features.

After three days of smashing success, The Atlanta Constitution's free summer electrical cooking school, being held at the Keith's Georgia theater, will reach its grand finale this morning.

The theater has been crowded at each session by women eager for a keener insight in the art of food preparation.

Mrs. Vera Howard Hall, who is conducting the demonstrations, is recognized in all sections of the country as a culinary expert of unusual brilliance.

During the course Mrs. Hall has instructed thousands of Atlanta housewives in the art of cooking.

Many of the principal features of the school have been held over for the final session, and it is expected that the largest crowd of the session will be on hand this morning.

The past three days have seen many new and tempting dishes introduced to local cooks. All of these have been relatively simple to prepare and of more than ordinary appeal to the southern taste.

Mrs. Hall says that Atlanta women are unusually adept at cooking and have proved themselves to be intelligent listeners.

"It seems," said Mrs. Hall, "that the housewives of Atlanta are very eager to improve their meals. I can tell immediately if my audience is desirous of learning something by their attitude and by the number of women who bring paper and pencil to take notes."

In noting that the majority of women are taking notes of what I have to say, it proves that all of us are anxious to improve the way in which we keep our homes and, as every husband will say, to start with the cooking is certainly a well-taken step.

It has always been a pleasure to conduct a cooking school in Atlanta and this session has been unusually gratifying on account of the interest evinced by my audience each day.

The official hostess for Thursday's session will be Mrs. Ralph Paris, prominent member of the Young Matrons' Circle of the Tallulah Falls school.

Mrs. Herbert Alden served as hostess Wednesday, introducing Mrs. Hall, on behalf of the women of Atlanta Mrs. Alden expressed deep appreciation to The Constitution for making the cooking school possible.

Also she thanked the women of Atlanta for their support of the school.

The doors of the theater will open promptly at 9:00 o'clock this morning and the last session of the cooking school will commence at 9:30 o'clock.

This last session, culminating in the usual cooking school features, will draw many hundreds of housewives from Atlanta and vicinity.

It is suggested that those women interested in the last lectures of The Constitution's free electrical cooking school come as early as possible so as to be assured of seats. This last day will feature several new dishes and Mrs. Hall's farewell to local housewives.

The following well-known companies are cooperating in the cooking school: Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, W. D. Alexander Company, Atlanta Ford Dealers, Beauty Bob Salon, Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Corn Products Company, Davison-Paxon Company, Edison General Electric Appliance Company, Georgia Pure Milk Company, Food Sales Company, Inc., Myron E. Huge Crowd Turns Out for Third Day of Constitution Cooking School

Scenes at the third session of The Atlanta Constitution's electric cooking school Wednesday at the Keith Georgia theater. The crowds have been growing daily, the attendance Wednesday having been decidedly larger than on either of the previous days. It is expected that the largest crowd of all will turn out for the final session this morning. The demonstrations will begin at 9:30 and the doors will be open half an hour earlier. At the top is shown the audience that greeted Mrs. Vera Howard Hall, who is directing the course at the Wednesday session. Below at the left is a scene outside the theater before the doors were opened, showing the large crowd of Atlanta housewives who go to the school early in order to get the choice seats. At the right is Mrs. Hall having a bit of refreshment at the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, one of the establishments which is co-operating with The Constitution in holding the school, when she was a visitor at the plant following the Wednesday session.

Chicago Free of Crime and Graft Envisioned by Optimistic Mayor

BY SEYMOUR BERKSON.

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP)—Optimistic pronouncement that Chicago's two most notorious public enemies—crime and graft—are on a bogan slide bound for oblivion was made today by Mayor Anton J. Cermak.

The mayor and a large party of political associates arrived in New York on a special train to attend the Sherkley-Walker fight tonight.

In an interview at the Grand Central station shortly after his arrival Mayor Cermak proudly declared that there were less crimes in the city of Chicago during the month of June than in any other month during the last ten years.

On the same flight special of the New York Central railroad, to which Cermak's private car was attached, rode Mike Carozza, notorious figure in Chicago's gangland, who was questioned by police in connection with a number of gang murders and was several times under indictment.

But the mayor was unaware of Carozza's presence and proceeded to tell the newspapermen who came to interview him that Chicago is not only fighting a winning fight against the gangster menace, but also against financial troubles growing out of many years of municipal waste and extravagance.

Mayor Cermak cited a list of economies he has effected since becoming Chicago's chief executive and declared that expenditures of the city for May (under the new administration) were $480,000 less than for March (under the "Big Bill" Thompson regime).

"I probably won't be able to get rid of the Thompson supporters on the school board until next year, but I'm going to clean them out of the educational system the same as I've cleaned them out of the city hall."

The mayor said Chicago is not "broke," but merely financially embarrassed for the time being because of delays in collecting taxes and refusal of banking interests to advance loans. He predicted that the finances of the city would be straightened out in a few months.

About national politics, Mayor Cermak, recognized chieftain of the Chicago democracy, was a bit less outspoken. He said that Illinois democratic leaders will probably lack Senator James Hamilton Lewis for president and that an effort will be made to obtain both the democratic and republican national conventions for Chicago.

MRS. B. F. STEVENSON TO REST IN WEST VIEW

Mrs. B. F. Stevenson, 50, of 480 Wabash street, wife of the secretary of the Railroad Y. M. C. A., died early Wednesday at her residence after a week's illness. Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock Friday morning in the Grant Park Methodist church with the Rev. J. H. Barton officiating.

Interment will be in West View cemetery with deacons of the church serving as pallbearers and members of the Susana Wesley Bible class forming an honorary escort.

Born near Decatur, Ill., Mrs. Stevenson took up her residence in Atlanta 10 years ago, having come here from Spencer, N. Y., where her husband served for a number of years as railroad "Y" secretary. She was a member of the Grant Park Methodist church, of the Woman's Missionary Society and of the Susana Wesley Bible class.

In addition to her husband she is survived by four daughters, Elizabeth, Elsie, Georgia and Ellen Stevenson; three sons, Ben, Paul and Marion Stevenson; her father, R. L. Johnson, of Tarkenton, Okla.; two sisters, Mrs. R. L. Melton, of Oklahoma City, and Mrs. Gus Bolek, of Fort Myers, Fla.; and four brothers, W. L. Johnson, of Lincoln, Neb.; Ed and Charlie Johnson, of Tarkenton, Okla.; and M. T. Johnson, of Decatur, Ill.

The mayor said Chicago is not "broke," but merely financially embarrassed for the time being because of delays in collecting taxes and refusal of banking interests to advance loans. He predicted that the finances of the city would be straightened out in a few months.

Russell Sees Night Sham Battle, Lauds 122d Officers on Showing

FORT MCCLIELLAN, Ala., July 22.—Before a crowd variously estimated from fifteen to thirty thousand the 122d Infantry Wednesday night staged one of the most brilliant sham night attacks in a regimental problem ever attempted in this section.

Governor Russell, Adjutant General Charles H. Cox, Brigadier General H. D. Russell, of Macon; B. S. Barker, of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and Congressman Robert Russell were among the three score prominent Georgians who were thrilled with the spectacular night display of pyrotechnics stimulating a night battle.

Major General E. G. Patton, Brigadier General G. H. Hughes, Colonel W. H. Smith, of the McClellan post, and other high-ranking regular army officers were present to form a guard of honor. There Governor Russell inspected the guard and then was escorted to Colonel O'Keefe's quarters where he spent the night.

The action against the Atlanta Country Club but formerly an Atlanta regular army officers were special guests of officers of "Atlanta's Own" Regiment.

The governor and his party arrived in camp shortly after 3 o'clock and a salute of 19 guns was fired as he entered the area occupied by Georgia troops. His car was piloted to the parade ground where Company F, under command of Captain R. C. Endicott, formed a guard of honor.

OFFICIALS DIFFER ON PLAN'S SOURCE

Castle Credits Hoover. Stimson Says U. S. and British Responsible.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(AP)—The question of who conceived the proposal before the London ministers' conference for the economic resurrection of Germany overshadowed other developments today in Washington.

Throughout the day, direct communication with Secretaries Stimson and Mellon was lacking, but officials here were none the less optimistic that the plan would accomplish its purpose.

Answering questions of newspaper correspondents in the English capital Stimson said the proposal was worked out together by the Americans and the British.

On the other hand, acting Secretary Castle, of the state department, said it was President Hoover's idea and was developed in Washington without consulting British officials.

Officials who have been informed of Stimson's statement, said they were sure Castle and the secretary were both speaking of the same thing.

The plan, he was sent to Stimson at Paris last week and he talked it over with statesmen there at the time. It was made public yesterday by the state department.

If the British in their own investigations of the situation reached the same conclusions, Castle added, so much the better.

Before the proposals were embodied in definite instructions they were subject of extensive communications between President Hoover and Stimson and Mellon, Castle said.

The American plan contemplated maintenance of present credits to Germany, strict control of foreign exchange by Germany and the establishment of a committee to consider renewal of outstanding credits and Germany's immediate need for further loans.

The state department had before it tonight unofficial reports of the French stand on disarmament as outlined in the Paris note to the League of Nations. The effect of heavy armament burdens on the whole economic situation was stressed by President Hoover in announcing his debt moratorium plan.

The London conference disrupted Secretary Stimson's plans to tour the principal European capitals and discuss disarmament and other questions with leading statesmen.
